JAPS RAID CHIEF CHINA AIR BASE; RUIN 51 PLANES

Claim Foe Is Dealt Knockout Blow.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, July 5 (Tuesday).—(AP) — Kuomin, the semi-official Chinese news agency, reported today that 94 persons were killed and 84 wounded when Japanese planes dropped more than 100 bombs in a series of raids on Loyang in northern Honan province. Among the casualties were 40 prisoners of Loyang prison.

SHANGHAI, July 5.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—Japanese reported today they had dealt a knockout blow to China's air defense in a devastating raid on Nanchang, one of the most important Chinese air bases.

A Japanese communique said fifty-one Chinese planes were destroyed in the air and on the ground. Hangars and other buildings on the new and old airdromes were ruined.

The advice asserted the aircraft constituted almost the entire first line of the Chinese air defense, and said the victory was achieved with only one Japanese plane missing.

Take Strategic Town, Hukow.

The communique said the action took place yesterday and reported forty-five of the planes were shot down in dog fights and the remainder destroyed on the ground. Among those not shot down, it alleged, were American, British and soviet machines.

Foreign advices said fifty Japanese planes dropped about 100 bombs on Nanchang, which is about 115 miles southeast of Hankow.

Japanese military authorities announced the capture early today of Hukow by Japan's Yangtze river forces hammering toward Hankow, the capital in the heart of China.

The fall of Hukow, one of the principal barriers to Hankow, brought the Japanese invaders within 160 miles of the capital and only 100 miles north of Nanchang.

Once the Japanese pierced Hukow's outer defenses, military officials said, the city's capitulation was almost bloodless with Chinese withdrawing leaving quantities of munitions.

Gain 70 Miles on Yangtze.

Japan's forces have advanced 70 miles up the mine strewn Yangtze whose banks were heavily defended by concrete pill-boxes since the fall of Anking 21 days ago.

In addition to piercing a protective boom of rock laden junks, sunk by the Chinese at Matowchen, the Japanese said they took 207 mines from the river to make way for their sweep inland. The majority of the Japanese river fleet, however, is still below the rocky barrier which lies 25 miles downstream from Hukow.

Possession of Hukow gives the invaders a base from which to launch an offensive across Lake Poyang, the second largest in China, against Nanchang and an overland drive to attempt cutting the Canton-Hankow railway, China's vital supply line.

Kiukiang, 15 miles upriver from Hukow, is the next Japanese objective. Formidable Chinese defense positions at the mouth of Lake Poyang still remain between the Japanese forces and Nanchang.

Military authorities at Hankow expressed belief the Japanese no longer were preparing for a frontal attack on Hankow but were beginning a wide enveloping movement in an effort to draw Chinese troops into a pitched battle.

China Issues Large Loan.

They believed the Japanese were striving to force the Chinese into a major engagement within the triangle formed by Hankow, Changsha and Nanchang.

Changsha is about 250 miles south of Hankow on the Canton-Hankow railroad.

The Chinese government announced immediate issuance of one-third of a bond issue of about $18,000,000 for "refugee reconstruction."

In Shanghai, a Chinese tentatively identified as Wei Zing, believed to have been an official of the Japanese sponsored Nanking government, was shot and killed in the heart of the international settlement by a lone gunman who flung away his pistol and escaped.

50,000 IN PARK STAMPEDE AMID BLAZING BURSTS

493 Holiday Deaths

The three day Fourth of July holiday resulted in a total of 493 violent deaths in the United States, according to a compilation by the Associated Press early this morning. They were classified as follows:

Fireworks	3
Trafic accidents	256
Drownings	139
Other causes	95

Among the miscellaneous causes were shootings, heat prostrations, plane accidents, and being struck by trains.

Fifty thousand persons stampeded last night amid a burst of flaming missiles as a huge pile of fireworks exploded prematurely in Portage park on Central avenue in northwestern Chicago.

As the roar of the blast died away and the shower of flames subsided, 17 persons—mostly children who had crowded close—were nursing injuries. Some had been burned by the explosives. Others had been badly trampled as the crowd broke and ran to get away from flaming Roman candles, skyrockets, and detonating bomb fragments.

Two Operators Held.

Thanks to a heavy wire fence, against which the mad pyrotechnical devices spent most of their fury, only three victims remained in a hospital today. The others went home after receiving treatment.

Up to the time of the Portage park accident the city's record for the day had been good. Fifty persons were slightly hurt in other widely scattered firecracker accidents. Only two were killed in auto accidents in the city and four in the suburban area, and there were only two drownings. These totals are far below average for Independence day.

Vast Crowd in Park.

Arranged by civic spirited business men of the neighborhood, who raised $500 by subscription, the Portage park fireworks display was about half over when the blast occurred. Practically every square foot of the 40 acre park was filled with spectators. Pressed close against the iron fence of the children's playground, in which the fireworks were being discharged, were scores of children.

The bulk of the fireworks lay in a pile under canvas. From this pile it was removed piece by piece for firing.

Suddenly a piece of paper became ignited near the explosives. Dale Sturtevant of Roscoe, Ill., and Robert Moffett of Beloit, Wis., who were putting on the show, apparently did not notice it. The flame crept under the canvas and the blast ensued.

Rockets Drive Into Crowd.

Aerial bombs and rockets were discharged promiscuously into the crowd. Women and children screamed. Thousands were gripped by momentary panic. The bombs, for the most part, crashed into the wire fence and were shattered. This probably saved the lives of many children.

However, showers of sparks arose and flaming bits of powder showered the children. After the panic had subsided, cooler heads took charge. The injured were taken into the fieldhouse. Physicians, ambulances, and firemen were summoned. Victims then were removed to hospitals.

Park Blast Casualties.

Bernard Barnes, 32 years old, 5317 Newport avenue, burns on left leg.

Mrs. Josephine Coppola, 24 years old, 1156 North Hamlin avenue, burns on right foot.

Mrs. Catherine Dubrovin, 34 years old, 2941 North Kenneth avenue, trampled on by crowd.

MR. LUGUBRIOUS BLUE AND MR. GLADD DISCUSS THE SITUATION

"Why, Mr. Blue, what in the world is the matter? Have you lost all your friends or something?"

"Matter! Everything's the matter! Take a look around you and what do you see? A daily war scare, the government an experimental laboratory with a monumental national debt and waste, fear and despair! I tell you, the outlook is solid black! I can't see a ray of light in any direction."

"But, Mr. Blue, there seems to be a definite change for the better. Haven't you been watching the rise in the stock market? Doesn't that reflect a much better sentiment? You noticed the market closed at the very top on the eve of a holiday. Doesn't that show a decided trend? It seems to me to be the start of a real recovery."

"The stock market doesn't mean anything, Mr. Gladd. It has ceased to be a reliable barometer of business conditions. Besides, this sudden rise is caused by two billion dollars being poured into the market by the big holding companies that had sold out their stocks in a panic of fear and are now buying them back again. They'd rather do that than let all that money lie idle."

"But, Mr. Blue, can't you see that that's a good sign? It shows they are getting over that panic of fear you speak about. They certainly wouldn't be loading up on stocks if they thought a big crash was just ahead. No, Mr. Blue, I'm afraid you've got yourself into such a mood of pessimism and despair that it's become a fixed habit. I actually believe you'd be disappointed if a real improvement got under way. You've had your fingers crossed so long you can't get 'em untangled."

"All right, all right! Laugh if you want to. Like the Englishman, I'll have the last laugh. Just you wait for the business statements of the last quarter! They'll soon be coming in. And what a sick condition they will show! They'll be enough to make anybody blue!"

"No, Mr. Blue, your psychology is all wrong. Just because things were bad the last quarter, you think things have got to keep on being bad. That's where we differ. You won't admit things can change for the better. You think things must always change for the worse. You're like a chronic hypochondriac who enjoys bad health and feels hurt if you say he is looking better. You close your eyes to signs of better things and prefer to look for the bad ones. It's my observation that, after a long period of bad business, there is bound to be a change for the better. Suppose everybody took your point of view! We'd never get out of the hole. You look at the hole and not at the doughnut."

"All right, Mr. Gladd, have it your own way. I look at the hole because I've been in it for some time. I haven't seen any dough, but I've seen a lot of nuts. Just take your optimism to the bank and see how much you can get on it! Also take a squint at the national debt! Still going up with no stop signs!"

"Everything that goes up has got to come down, Mr. Blue. That's an established law of physics. Besides, all that money is spent here in this country. None of it goes out. It's all in the family. It all gets into circulation. It does more for the country than the money that lies idle in the bank, scared stiff."

CHICAGO PAIR LEFT NUDE ON ROADSIDE BY ARMED ROBBERS

Edwardsville, Ill., July 4.—(AP)—Police sought a new type of bandit tonight after the second holdup in which victims were forced to disrobe and were left nude by the roadside.

Early today Raymond Recker, 22 years old, Chicago, and a woman companion were robbed of $40, their automobile and all clothing except their shoes.

Forty-eight hours earlier two armed youths took a small amount of cash and a diamond ring from a Downers Grove, Ill., couple near the same spot and left them stripped near a well-traveled highway. The automobiles taken in both robberies were found abandoned a short distance from the scenes of the crimes.

FINDS CAR CAN DO 95; COPS PICK HIM OUT OF WRECKAGE

Policemen Michael Murtaugh and James Cahill didn't know whether it was a white streak or a black streak that passed them on the Outer drive south of 23d street yesterday morning. Speeding up their squad car, they found an overturned automobile at 43d street and picked its driver, a Negro, out of the wreckage.

"I was trying to get it up to 100 miles an hour," he said. "The speedometer registered 95 when I took that last turn."

He was taken to the Bridewell hospital, where he said he was Robert Swink, 1709 North Ninth avenue, Milwaukee. When brought back to the Hyde Park station he said his name was Singer.

Bandit Operates in Dark; Sees the Light Next Day

Fayetteville, Tenn., July 4.—(AP)—It was a dark country road on which J. K. Eslick, head of the Fayetteville fire department, was held up. So how was the young gunman to know the car he stole was a brilliant red and had "fire chief" in gold letters on each side?

Denies Woman Died Under His Hypnotic Spell

Glendale, Cal., July 4.—(AP)—Police announced today that a Hollywood hypnotist had admitted being in the room with Mrs. Marie Colombos, 23 years old, an expectant mother, when she died last Thursday, but he vigorously denied accusations by the woman's husband that he had cast a spell over her.

The one-time vaudeville hypnotist, Robert Arvey Gilbert, was held on suspicion of murder after first denying he had seen Mrs. Colombos, or her bartender husband, George, the day she died.

Tells of Fainting Spells.

With Detective Lieutenant Sam Woodard handling the questioning, Gilbert declared Mrs. Colombos suffered a series of fainting spells after lifting a 150 pound day bed off the floor.

"Did Marie Colombos believe that you could use any talent which you might possess to aid her in childbirth?" Gilbert was asked.

"That was never discussed. I didn't have time to discuss it," Gilbert was quoted as replying. Gilbert figured in a "painless birth case" here several weeks ago and said that "ever since that case was reported as more or less a success women have been calling me, believing that I have a certain talent which would aid them," he said.

Efforts to Aid Her Fail.

"Mrs. Colombos lifted the day bed and let it down twice," he continued. "I walked toward the kitchen and as I did so I heard a noise, when I looked around she was on the floor and it looked like she had fainted."

Artificial respiration efforts proved futile, he said, and he left the house, climbing out a rear window, to look for Colombos.

"I realized that I was in another man's home and it would be rather difficult to explain why I was there and why I called a doctor," Gilbert said.

'SWEET STUFF' IS WINNER OF DERBY BY TWO RATTLES

North Little Rock, Ark., July 4.—(AP)—Sweet Stuff, using a combination shimmy and crawl, won Arkansas' first annual rattlesnake derby tonight before several hundred spectators.

The five foot, seven rattle reptile, owned by Dr. Frank R. Sweet, North Little Rock physician, came under the wire two rattles ahead of Bulldog, second place winner. Hav-a-Look finished third. Sweet Stuff negotiated the distance of 93 feet in 4 minutes and 55 seconds.

Forty-seven rattlers participated in the race. They were released from a box in the center of a 500 foot ring by Druggist Joe K. Poch, originator of the race. The snakes were given an electrical shock to speed their take off.

SUNDAY RESCUER SAVES TWO MORE IN FLOOD WATERS

Richard Gleason, who aided Sunday in the rescue of a baby, 16 months old, and six other persons whose boat overturned in the flood waters of the Des Plaines river near the Lake street bridge in Maywood, last night rescued two boys, 13 years old, who had fallen into the river. The boys are Billie Franklin of 903 North Menard avenue, and Edward Everett of 956 North Waller avenue. The boys had been playing on the shore near the Lake street bridge, and told police a man came along and pushed them into the river. Gleason, who is employed by the forest preserve district, picked the boys up in his boat. He lives at 171 North Des Plaines avenue, Maywood.

No Third Term for Garner, He Tells Friends

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—Vice President John N. Garner let it be made known by his friends today that he positively will not indulge any third term ambitions of President Roosevelt by accepting the Democratic nomination for a third term as Vice President.

Roosevelt Might Be Averse.

If Mr. Roosevelt should desire a third term Garner would be his logical running mate, in the opinion of such advisers as Postmaster General James A. Farley. Mr. Roosevelt himself might be somewhat averse to this partnership because of a number of tiffs he has had with the shrewd Texan, particularly over government spending policies, it is conceded.

The timing of this disclosure of the Vice President's third term ideas was regarded significant. On Thursday the President departs on a frankly political swing across the country in which he will seek to aid certain Democratic candidates and to purge from the party in primary contests other Democrats who have refused to vote 100 per cent with the administration.

Whether or not President Roosevelt now wants to shatter all precedents by running for a third term, it is believed that a favorable reaction of the country on the forthcoming expedition may stimulate him to believe that the citizenry wants no other candidate in 1940. Wherefore the Garner announcement may cause him to reflect, in the opinion of political observers.

Firm in Opposition.

The Vice President told his friends that he himself entertains no ambitions in connection with the Democratic nomination for the presidency. He indicated, however, that he might permit himself to come to the convention in 1940 as the "favorite son" entry of Texas. In such a position he would wield powerful influence against the third term candidacy of President Roosevelt, if it should develop.

Garner was represented as having used firm language in asserting his opposition to any attempt to place the President in the White House for another four years. Part of this opposition is based on a reverence for the two term tradition, Garner's intimates said, but a substantial part is based on an opinion that the President would probably continue to spend vast sums and further plunge the country into debt.

Nor does the Vice President like the President's intrusion into Democratic primaries, it was said. Like other old line Democrats, Garner feels such interference splits the party and helps the Republicans.

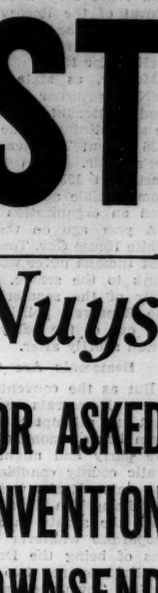
SENATOR ASKED TO CONVENTION BY TOWNSEND

Governor Insists He Holds No Grudge.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., July 4.—[Special.]—United States Senator Frederick Van Nuys, independent Democrat, who was marked for slaughter in the Roosevelt purge, was invited by Gov. M. Clifford Townsend tonight to become a candidate for renomination in the Democratic state convention next week. Van Nuys had been proscribed for his opposition to the President's court packing scheme.



Senator Van Nuys [upper] and Gov. Townsend [lower].

Inasmuch as Gov. Townsend was considered to be the chief obstacle in the way of Van Nuys' renomination tonight's invitation, which was in the form of a telegram, was regarded as of unusual importance. Many of Senator Van Nuys' friends looked on the invitation as assuring him the Democratic nomination, but others pointed out that the governor's telegram did not promise Van Nuys any support in the convention. The governor is said to control about 85 per cent of the delegates.

Doesn't Assure Nomination.

Gov. Townsend in his telegram to Senator Van Nuys mentions that he was accused of having read Van Nuys out of the Democratic party a year ago. It is believed that Townsend sent the message with the approval of United States Senator Sherman Minton, ex-Gov. Paul V. McNutt, now high commissioner to the Philippines, and National Committeeman Frank McHale.

Gov. Townsend's wire to Senator Van Nuys was as follows:

"Last summer at French Lick I discussed the philosophy of democratic government.

"Unfortunately and because of a combination of circumstances, I was accused of being a dictator and of trying to read you out of the Democratic party.

"As I am a Democrat in action as well as in theory, I am now inviting you to become a candidate for United States senator at the convention July 12, and so far as I am concerned you will find it a wide open convention."

Awaits Further News.

Senator Van Nuys, himself, said he thought the message indicated a withdrawal of the opposition to him, although he was guarded in making a statement concerning it over the long distance telephone. He is at Walloon Lakes, Mich. He had intended to remain there, ignoring the convention of his party, and then to run as an independent candidate.

"The invitation is quite unexpected," he explained. "I have been out of the state for the last three weeks and have not been in touch with the political situation. Before leaving on vacation I was asked my views on accepting the Democratic nomination.

"I said I would be pleased to be renominated by the party with which I have been affiliated so long and so pleasantly. But as it was understood Gov. Townsend would block my nomination I had made plans accordingly. My original statement stands. I would be pleased to be renominated by the Democratic party.

Doesn't Know Intentions.

"I do not know what the intentions of any of the gentlemen are. I will know better in a few days whether or not to expect the nomination. I had not expected to attend the convention. I shall be governed by pre-convention events."

The senator, who defied the Roosevelt administration to control his vote, and defied the McNutt juggernaut to beat him, had been assured of the help of nearly a score of Democratic senators from other states.

Van Nuys had the unsolicited promises of more than a dozen of his colleagues that they would come into Indiana and stump the state in his behalf. Just recently a campaign was begun to enroll 100,000 of his fellow-Hoosiers in pledging their support to him.

Van Nuys' defiance of the bosses of his party, Roosevelt and Farley in Washington; Minton, McHale, and Townsend in Indiana, and McNutt in the Philippines, put the Indiana leaders in a predicament. If they beat Van Nuys they would win the approval of the Roosevelt administration, but at the same time they might injure the presidential ambitions of McNutt for 1940.

McHale, as state leader, elected McNutt governor in 1932 and Townsend lieutenant governor. In 1934 he sent Minton to the senate, and in 1936 he put Townsend in the governor's chair. Van Nuys had been elected in 1932 without much help from McHale and was never considered an organization man.

A year ago on the steps of the White House Gov. Townsend declared that Indiana never would return Van Nuys to the senate. He spoke bitterly of the senator's antipathy to the Roosevelt policies. The "reading out of the party" incident followed shortly after.

Democrats Are Grumbling.

But as the convention neared, Indiana Democrats were grumbling that any attempt to keep Van Nuys from being renominated would split the party and might defeat Democratic county candidates throughout the state. It also was explained that sacrificing Van Nuys, who stood well with the senate as a whole, might jeopardize whatever chance McNutt has of being the Democratic presidential nominee two years hence.

Gov. Townsend called newspapermen to his home and made public his telegram to Van Nuys. Then he made a statement amplifying it.

Holds No Personal Grudge.

Discussing his action he said:

"While Senator Van Nuys and I have conscientiously differed on several issues, I hold no personal grudge against him. I have no desire to dictate to the Democratic party its nominees for any office. I believe that the will of the majority of the Democratic party should prevail at the state convention. I believe that the Democrats of Indiana should be given every opportunity to decide whom they wish to represent them in the United States senate.

"Therefore, I am inviting Senator Van Nuys to become a candidate for United States senator at the Democratic state convention. He is a Democrat and entitled to the consideration of the convention.

"I have a deep and abiding faith in the Democratic procedure, and I know that the representatives of the Democratic party will select a nominee for the United States senate who will coöperate with our great President and his program for permanent recovery.

"As a citizen and as a Democrat, I am grateful for the privilege of being able to submit an issue to the will of the majority."

Declares People Will Rectify Wrongs.

New York, July 4.—(AP)—Mathew Woll, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, said today America would recover from "any unsound theories or panaceas which are promulgated by those in the seats of power."

In a prepared address entitled "What's Right with America," broadcast under the auspices of the National Rededication movement, Woll denounced critics who have belittled American modes and institutions.

Sees Free Speech Limited.

"I know some of the things that have been wrong with America, but I also know what is right with America," he said.

"I have seen civil rights denied to my fellow citizens which were guaranteed to them by the constitution, because they belonged to labor organizations or were members of racial or religious minorities.

"I have seen the freedom of the press threatened at times," he continued, "and I have seen free speech limited by the arbitrary acts of elected officials.

"But these have been temporary phenomena. These violations of man's civil rights have lasted no longer than it took for the sense of fair play on the part of the American people to assert itself."

Hope for Oppressed.

"What is right with America is the faith in which it was conceived, the hope which it has held out to the oppressed of all nations."

Hermann Hagedorn, director of National Rededication, said the purpose of the movement was to state the case of liberty and democracy as expressed in the declaration of independence and guaranteed by the constitution. He said backers of the movement included Americans of every party, race, and creed, including Herbert Hoover, Norman Thomas, Admiral Byrd, William Allen White, and William Green.

In Depression Drive

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—With the start of the new fiscal year, the administration is preparing to pour out $8,500,000,000 through various federal agencies in what the President has described as "the real drive on the depression." Of this amount, the WPA will have $1,425,000,000 for the next eight months to care for three million persons. The PWA has $1,000,000,000 at its disposal for projects all over the country. The CCC was allotted $286,000,000 for its 300,000 youths. The navy construction program calls for spending $154,000,000 on a new fleet, and the army and air force will expand personnel and equipment. The RFC has at its disposal $1,500,000,000 for lending to railroads, utilities and other industries, besides other lending agencies which are still in operation. The treasury expects to spend $70,000,000 on new buildings, mostly post offices.

NORTH CHICAGO PICKETS TO GET NOTICE OF WRIT

Police and sheriff's details will be on hand today at the plant of the Chicago Hardware Foundry company in North Chicago when deputies serve strikers with notice of an injunction forbidding them to interfere with those employés desiring to work.

Police Chief Jacob Novak said he did not expect trouble at the plant since the pickets have been orderly since the strike began June 6. The strike was called against a 10 per cent wage cut.

The injunction was issued by Judge Ralph J. Dady of the Lake County Circuit court.

PRESIDENT KEEPS HOLIDAY AT DESK; CONFERS ON JOBS

Considers Appointees for New Court Posts.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—While hundreds of thousands of federal employés enjoyed a holiday on the 162d birthday of the nation President Roosevelt spent the day at his desk.

The President went through a full day of callers on the first day of his return from a week at his family home at Hyde Park, N. Y., by way of Gettysburg, Pa., last night. Mr. Roosevelt had a good night's sleep in the White House after his participation in ceremonies observing the 75th anniversary of the civil war battle.

For the most part the callers were concerned with jobs. He discussed the twenty-odd judicial appointments he will make as a result of the recent enlargement of federal courts with Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

Attorney General Calls Twice.

The attorney general called during the afternoon and returned to the White House again at night to present the qualifications of the hundreds of candidates for federal judgeships. Two of the new posts go to Illinois—a Circuit Court of Appeals post in northern Illinois and a District court post downstate.

It is expected that the circuit bench post will go to Federal Judge Philip Sullivan, a protégé of Senator James Hamilton Lewis, and that United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, defeated candidate of the Nash-Kelly machine for the Democratic senatorial nomination, will fill Judge Sullivan's shoes. Selection of the downstate judge will be left to Gov. Henry Horner in order that both Democratic factions of the state will be satisfied.

Confers with Council Head.

Another visitor was Lowell Mellett, former newspaper man, who is now head of the national emergency council, which is the clearing house bureau of the 5 billion dollar pump priming program. Mellett is being considered for the job of administering the graduated wage and hour act.

Mellett said he had talked over with the President the conference to be held here tomorrow with a group of southern industrial leaders, educators, and others together with government officials to discuss the south's economic conditions and needs. The conference was called at the suggestion of the President as the first of a series of similar meetings to consider the needs of various parts of the country.

Considers Aeronautics Appointees.

During the day the President studied over the 500 names which have been submitted for the five directorial posts on the new civil aeronautics commission. He also went over files for other job vacancies. He expects to fill most of the posts before he leaves for the west coast Thursday night.

Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia and now the envoy to Belgium, called to say farewell before he leaves for his new post at Brussels. Davies, who sought the transfer to his new post because Moscow did not offer him and his wife, Marjorie Post Hutton Davies, breakfast food heiress, enough social life, told reporters he had delivered a report to the President on conditions in Russia.

THRILL EXPERTS OF POLICE FORCE REHERSE STUNTS

Motorcycle Riders to Put Mounts Through Paces.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

The men who will present one of the most spectacular exhibitions at the Chicago Police and Fire Thrill show in Soldiers' field on July 17 will begin rehersal of their stunts today.

They are the motorcycle men of the police department—the men whose skill in weaving in and out of trafic at high speed has made you marvel. You also have wondered at the perfect formations they keep in leading parades; at their ability to keep their tricky mounts upright at snail-like speeds.

Dangerous Maneuvers.

But there will be nothing of the snail about them a week from Sunday in Soldiers' field. The roar of their motorcycles will fill the air. They will make hairpin turns, pick up objects from the ground, and engage in fast formation riding that will make you wonder when the crash is coming.

It is the every day duty of these men to see to it that there are no crashes, either to themselves or the motoring public. They straighten out trafic, keep dangerous intersections free, and chase reckless speeders whose autos would outdistance regulation squad cars, fast as they are. Their small mounts can penetrate trafic jams where squad cars cannot go.

Pursue Escaping Outlaws.

And occasionally it is theirs to pursue escaping outlaws in fast cars. More than one gang has been brought to grief by a motorcycle policeman able to steer with one hand at 85 and 90 miles an hour and keep a pistol banging with the other.

And these motorcycle men form only a small group of the city's defenders who show the public the thrilling side of their work on July 17. The thrill show, which is sponsored by the fire and police departments, the Chicago park district, and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, is being given in recognition of these fearless public defenders who night and day guard the people against fire and crime.

While the motorcycle squads are rehersing this morning, construction crews will unload their equipment in Soldiers' field and start building the five story tower that is to be the stage for some of the most dangerous stunts of the show.

Leap 64 Feet Into Net.

It will be from this tower that firemen will make leaps for life into nets 64 feet below and will slide down life lines through clouds of dense smoke, carrying other firemen, representing unconscious smoke victims. The tower will be scaled by teams and individuals using the short, polelike pompier ladders, such as were invented by the French for going up fortress walls. Any errors in this drill will mean a call for the ambulance.

And there will be gun battles; engagements between the police and fugitives after thrilling chases in two way radio squad cars. It will be the greatest joint police and fire show ever staged in Chicago.

The proceeds will be set aside for promotion next year of a similar show that will be free to all. The prices this year will be low enough for any one.

Germany Has Novel Plan to Teach Trafic Safety

BERLIN, July 4.—The German government has hit upon a novel method of teaching auto drivers, pedestrians and bicyclists habits of trafic safety. Several men recently had baskets placed on their heads and then were marched across streets to teach drivers how careless they must expect pedestrians to be. Signs are erected at street corners warning pedestrians to "look out when crossing the street."

New York, July 4.—(AP)—Landing at Floyd Bennett airport, on the south shore of Long Island, at 6:49 p. m., Howard Hughes, millionaire sportsman flier, tonight completed a one stop transcontinental flight preparatory to a trans-Atlantic hop to Paris.

His trip from Wichita, Kas., where he passed last night required only 7 hours 16 minutes. His total flight time from Burbank, Cal., where he took off yesterday morning, to New York in his fast, two motored airplane with which he may essay a record attempting trip around the world, was 13 hours 38 minutes.

Bicyclist, 12, Hits Auto; Skull Feared Fractured

FATHER-IN-LAW OF YOUNG ASTOR FINDS A $3 JOB

Newport, R. I., July 4.—[Special.]—Francis Ormond French, father-in-law of John Jacob Astor III., wound the family alarm clock tonight, packed a small suitcase, and announced that he would be in Boston tomorrow morning ready to work in a new job.

He is going to work at a golf driving range operated by Edw. C. Madden, former city councilor and Boston college football player. The job pays $3 for an eight hour day, six days a week, and there is a chance to earn a bit more by working overtime.

He said he would take a room in Boston and leave his wife in their rented Newport cottage three miles from the mansion where his daughter, the former Ellen French, lives.

French, who once drove a taxi, recently applied for work on a WPA street repair project here. He was turned down.

PORTO RICAN MAYOR FUMES OVER MURAL IN NEW U. S. BUILDING

Washington, D. C., July 4.—(AP)—Don Jose Tormos Diego, mayor of Ponce, Porto Rico, started out to see the sights today and happened upon Rockwell Kent's mural in the new postoffice department building depicting the delivery of air mail in Porto Rico.

His honor glared a moment at the ragged black boys in the picture and exploded indignantly in Spanish: "Ten thousand cockroaches! But this is too much abuse!"

What was the use of trying to get tourists to Porto Rico, he demanded, if Porto Ricans are portrayed here as unkempt and uncultured. The mayor said "something would have to be done" about removing the picture "and drawing a good one by a Porto Rican artist."

CHICAGO MAKES JULY 4 A GREAT SUMMER OUTING

Under bright blue skies and in temperatures mildly warm, Chicagoland's millions flocked yesterday to beaches, forests and parks and made a summer festival of Independence day.

State highway police in Indiana and Illinois reported last night that the heaviest motor trafic in years was sweeping across the trunk lines leading into Chicago. Most of it was inbound, but there was a tremendous outward flow—the Chicago Motor club estimated that 400,000 motorists were returning from country trips and 200,000 small town folk were beating back after enjoying the sights of Chicago.

There were few serious accidents and few tieups. This was a matter for comment by the police. The Indiana station at Chesterton reported that the inbound trafic on routes 20 and 12, main lines to Michigan, maintained a steady pace between 7 and 10 p. m., with no period of letup, and that this aided in keeping the roads open.

Roads Comfortably Filled.

A similar report came from the Elgin station of the Illinois police. Roads in Lake and Du Page counties were comfortably filled for hours with homeward bound Chicagoans. Improved road conditions, as well as a greater consciousness of responsibility by drivers, it was said, tended to hold down the accident toll.

Within the city, beaches and parks saw crowds such as had not appeared previously this year. It was estimated that 334,000 enjoyed the beaches of the park district, that 100,000 persons visited the Lincoln park zoo, and the same number went to the Brookfield zoo. Another 226,000, exclusive of beach patrons, played in the parks if police guesses are correct.

The forest preserves, the favorite places for picnics, accommodated something like 200,000. Charles G. Sauers, superintendent of the preserves, said that although many of the groves were muddy from the heavy rains of Friday, the pleasure of the picknickers did not appear to have been dampened.

North Shore Beaches Crowded.

North shore beaches from Evanston to Waukegan all had huge throngs. The resorts in Michigan and Wisconsin had their usual crowds, even the closing of a few of the roads to northwest on Friday having little effect on the number of visitors.

One of the few trafic tieups occurred in Lake street in Oak Park, when 20,000 persons, who had attended the American Legion fireworks in the Oak Park stadium, poured out while the procession from the west was at its densest.

Another slow spot was at 1st avenue and North avenue, in Proviso township, where policemen seemingly were unable to coördinate their directions with a stoplight. Still another was Skokie boulevard near Willow road, where water stood several inches deep on the concrete.

Roosevelt Sends Wreath to Grave of Calvin Coolidge

Plymouth, Vt., July 4.—(AP)—A wreath from President Roosevelt was placed on the mountainside grave of Calvin Coolidge, 30th President of the United States, during services today in tiny Plymouth Notch cemetery observing his 66th birthday anniversary. The wreath sent by President Roosevelt was placed by Lieut. Col. Lucien S. Berry, United States army officer in charge of the organized reserves in Rutland.

STRUCK BY STRAY BULLET.

COSTS 45 MILLIONS TO FEED 300,000 CCC BOYS FOR ONE YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—Contracts for the purchase of approximately 45 million dollars worth of foodstuffs for the Civilian Conservation corps, will be awarded in the fiscal year which began July 1, Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation corps, announced today.

At its present authorized strength of 300,000 men, the CCC consumes more than one and one-half million pounds of food each day in accordance with the 5.12 pounds of food for each man each day prescribed by the United States army garrison ration used by the CCC.

The quartermaster corps estimates 11,406 freight cars, each containing approximately 48,000 pounds of foodstuffs, will be needed during the year to supply the 1,500 CCC kitchens with meats, groceries, fresh vegetables, and supplies for the CCC boys' meals.

VETERANS OF '63 SEE HOW MODERN WAR IS FOUGHT

Latest Machines Shown at Gettysburg.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 4.—(AP)—A new generation of fighting men, deploying on ground where a nation's unity was reëstablished, showed their elderly forbears today how modern war would be fought.

On this 162d anniversary of American independence 3,000 regular army troops with the latest in military machines went on parade before the dimmed but watchful eyes of a little band of men who braved canister and grape, the shot and shell of 75 years ago.

This was another of the awe inspiring spectacles of the week long last reunion of the 2,000 veterans of the Union and confederate armies.

The Army day program brought on to the field, where Pickett charged futilely in '63, mounted troops in brisk drill, roaring flying fortresses, the colorful horsedrawn artillery and the high speed tanks that are replacing the chargers.

The scene was so different from that of 75 years ago many veterans shook their heads in amazement.

The weather was ideal for such a show. Scarcely a cloud was in sight. The temperature was comfortable. The change from the sweltering heat of yesterday brought more of the old soldiers out of their tents.

Thousands of visitors still strolled around the camps and the town but much of the throng that heard President Roosevelt dedicate the eternal peace memorial yesterday had left. Today's crowd was estimated officially at 50,000, about one-third of yesterday's crush.

Much of the veterans' schedule today was free for visiting and resting. This evening the military demonstration was repeated and a fireworks display ended the program.

The army's modern weapons were on display all day on Cemetery ridge, the high water mark of the southern invasion. The exhibition included a 78 ton railway gun of the coast artillery, anti-aircraft searchlights and power plants and anti-aircraft guns.

FIREWORKS BLAST IN PARK HURTS 17; 50,000 STAMPEDE

Mrs. Edith McElligott, 56 years old, 4033 North Kildare avenue, trampled on by crowd.

The injured were treated at the Chicago State hospital and the Belmont hospital. Doris Samuelson and the two Carlson brothers remained in the Belmont hospital. All other victims later went to their homes.

Train Kills 4 Motorists.

Two men and two women were killed last night when their automobile was struck by a passenger train on the Alton railroad line near Blodgett, twenty-one miles south of Joliet. The license of the automobile was traced to Wilbur Soden, 34 years old, of 751 West 60th street. Neither his identity nor that of the three others in the car could be established immediately.

The other victims were thought, however, to have been Roy Treman, whose home is at 67th and Green streets; Mrs. Betty Kostecki Nellis, 29 years old, and Miss Laura Kostecki, 25, both of 6033 South Green street.

Mrs. Sophie Gion, 32 years old, 3442 North Kildare avenue, was injured fatally when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a truck in front of 5330 Montrose avenue. She died in the Belmont hospital.

Jigg Sunegal, 55 years old, 5953 Crystal street, died in the county hospital of injuries suffered June 26, when he was struck by an automobile at Elston avenue and Irving Park boulevard.

Mrs. Ida Horwitz, 45 years old, 911 Independence boulevard, was seriously injured when four automobiles collided in Rand road, at Wauconda.

Deaths were considerably below the average for a Sunday in July. The number of injured in week-end automobile crashes also was comparatively small.

Joseph Morin, 2910 North Seeley avenue, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Morin, 3600 Simpson street, Niles Center, were injured when the car in which they rode collided with a bus at Sherman avenue and Emerson street, Evanston.

Mary Miceli, 7 years old, was critically injured when her family's car overturned in route 41 ten miles northwest of Waukegan. The child's home is at 1727 Dayton street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 411 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these fatalities, 317 were in Chicago, where 9,187 were injured in the same period.

Youth Drowns in Lake.

Benjamin Tignino, 17 years old, who lived near Paulina street and Grand avenue, was drowned yesterday in Diamond lake, near Mundelein. His cousin, Frank Salome, 33 years old, 1510 Harrison street, made an unavailing effort to pull the boy to shore after he sank near the center of the lake.

Another drowning victim was Thomas Shimkus, 14 years old, a resident at St. Mary's school, Central and River roads, near Des Plaines. He went to the river, against the express rules of the school, and slipped down a high bank into the water.

Until an early hour today fifty persons, in addition to the victims of the Portage park explosion, had been injured by fireworks in Chicago and the suburbs yesterday and Sunday. Last year the total reported was 146. Nearly all of those hurt in the Sporadic fireworks accidents were burned on the hands and arms, and none was in serious condition.

The Chicago police enforced the ordinance against the sale of fireworks, but the usual supply was available in some western suburbs. Henry Lang, owner of a poolroom at 1325 Wrightwood avenue, was arrested on a charge of bootlegging firecrackers to children in the neighborhood.

3 KILLED, 3 HURT IN 2 CAR CRASH AT INTERSECTION

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

"SPEAKING OF THE WEATHER—"

By CALEB

"IN CHICAGO Marshall Field's is like the weather," said our friend. "It serves as a convenient topic with which to open a conversation. I think I have never known a store to be so much discussed in its community as Field's."

We hear such reports again and again—and our own experience bears them out. Our store and the things it sells do seem to appear often in conversations hereabouts.

The opening remarks frequently lead to discussions, with anecdotes and interesting stories drawn from long acquaintance with the store and its facilities. Usually the conversation soon betrays a feeling of responsibility on the part of our friends—a feeling justified by years of pleasant business association.

It sometimes happens that complaints against the store are registered in these talks, and when they are, those who understand the spirit of the place reply somewhat in this fashion:

"There must be something missing from that story. I'm sure that if we knew all the facts, we'd find an explanation and a good reason for an apparent shortcoming." Not infrequently letters reach us recounting such a conversation and rejoinder.

No matter what they involve, we are always glad to learn about such conversations, and if they serve to clear up a misunderstanding, we are more than pleased. In any organization as large as ours, errors will sometimes occur.

Those friends who discuss such occurrences and bring them to our attention give us the thing we most desire: a chance to straighten out the record for the benefit of our customers, and to make a change or improvement if one seems to be needed. Some important improvements in and additions to our service have been brought about through such friendly criticism beginning in a casual conversation.

And so we hope our store will continue to rival the weather in our friends' conversation. Knowing in advance that our left ear as well as our right will burn, we still are happy to be talked about.

U. S. PARIS ENVOY ASSAILS BOMBING RAIDS ON CITIES

Praises Gen. Lafayette at 4th Celebration.

PARIS, July 4.—(AP)—United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt lent the weight of his office today to denunciation of bombings of civilian centers such as have happened in Spain and China.

Speaking in an American Independence day observance at the grave of the Marquis de Lafayette, French hero of the American revolution, the ambassador laid the bombings of women and children to "bestial traits." These traits, he went on, were counteracted by "good hearted acts of friendship" similar to Lafayette's assistance to America.

His speech struck the note for the Fourth of July observance by the American colony in Paris. Later the ambassador entertained Americans at his residence at Chantilly.

Meet at Wilson Monument.

PRAGUE, July 4.—(AP)—American delegates to Czechoslovakia's Sokol convention, national gathering of gymnastic societies, held Fourth of July ceremonies today at the monument of Woodrow Wilson. The American flag was hoisted on Petrin hill, Prague's highest point, in the presence of American and Czechoslovak officials.

Daniels Holds Reception.

MEXICO CITY, July 4.—(AP)—United States Ambassador Josephus Daniels told an Independence day audience today that "the only cure for the ills of democracy is more and purer democracy." He spoke at exercises at the United States embassy where he and Mrs. Daniels earlier received resident and visiting Americans at a reception."

Soldiers in Spain Celebrate.

WITH THE LINCOLN-WASHINGTON BATTALION, Somewhere in Spain, July 4.—(AP)—Along Spanish valley roads winding between vineyards and hazel groves, improvised firecrackers popped today in celebration of the American Fourth of July.

Volunteers who came from the United States to enlist in forces of the Spanish government in its civil war took time out from work in the camp where they have been training to observe their own Independence day with games, feasts, speeches, and fireworks.

Premier Sends Message.

Premier Juan Negrin sent a telegram which said:

"As president of the council of ministers, in commemoration of the independence of the United States, which this battalion is celebrating in the illustrious spirit of Washington and Lincoln, I wish to convey thanks and cordial salutations to the faithful fighters of the battalion."

Portraits of Washington, Lincoln, and Negrin, copies of the American Declaration of Independence and the Spanish government's "thirteen points for victory" were pasted on bulletin boards outside the troops' mud-roofed dugouts.

One board bore the alphabet poem of Recruit James P. Lardner, son of the late Ring Lardner, beginning:

"A is for agua [water]; when fighting all day

[Copyright; 1938; By the New York Times.]

DUBLIN, July 4.—American flags were much in evidence in Dublin today to signalize Independence day. In Phoenix park the American minister, John Cudahy, gave a garden party attended by members of the American colony, Premier Eamon de Valera, government officials and church dignitaries. The visitors enjoyed hot dogs and Virginia ham sandwiches.

Firecracker Victim

JANE WITHERS.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 4.—Jane Withers, juvenile film star, was a victim of firecracker burns early today. Jane, with her parents, was enjoying the Fourth at Lake Arrowhead when a string of firecrackers flared up and exploded. She received first degree burns on one hand, said her mother, Mrs. Walter Withers.

8 Arabs Killed in Series of Disorders in Palestine

JERUSALEM, July 4.—(AP)—Eight Arabs were killed in a series of disturbances today. Three were killed and seven wounded by a bomb thrown at a bus in the Jewish quarter here and one was killed and three hurt in a fight. Bombs thrown at the Jaffa, Telaviv boundaries, killed four and wounded five.

JOHN HAMILTON CITES JEFFERSON IDEALS AS GUIDE

Senator Pepper Defends Roosevelt Regime.

Charlottesville, Va., July 4.—(AP)—John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, and Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], administration spokesman, each turned to Thomas Jefferson today to support their arguments for policies of the two major parties.

Hamilton, sharing with Pepper the same platform at the University of Virginia's Institute of Public Affairs, said departure from Jeffersonian precepts in the last five years "has been primarily responsible for many of the evils which afflict this country today."

First of Discussion Series.

Senator Pepper, who spoke immediately after Hamilton in a discussion of objectives of the Republicans and Democrats, asserted "every one knows, of course, that Jefferson's passion for liberty would no more compromise with economic despotism than with political despotism."

The two addresses were the first of a series of discussions of economic stability and social security, central theme for speakers during the two weeks' session of the institute which opened last night.

Cities Need for Confidence.

Asserting that hardly a page in the 20 volumes of Jefferson's writings does not "contain an indictment of some aspect of what the New Deal has done," Hamilton said Republicans have contended that before the country can achieve prosperity "there must be a restoration of confidence" among people in their federal government and in their own future.

"For that we have been jeered by persons highly placed," he added, "yet Jefferson, too, recognized the necessity for confidence.

"Not to carry on the fight to stop reckless spending of the New Deal means to give way to disaster and despair because now, after five years, there can be few who really believe that the Roosevelt administration has any intention of ever bringing the national budget into balance. Thus unless the New Deal is soon checked—as it will be—only disaster and financial chaos awaits this nation."

Pepper said Jefferson "is certainly no authority for the view that the nation's government may not, when faced with a great national emergency involving safety and well-being of its people, resort even to the very verge of its constitutional power.

"To hear opponents of the New Deal speak," he continued, "one would think that Jefferson neither appreciated nor opposed any oppression save that from England or from the government of the United States; that his whole life's struggle was one of total unconcern for the fate of men, women, and children from economic forces more exacting in their tyranny than were ever the wildest ravings of the most oppressive decrees of a mad George."

TWO BOYS PLAY TOSS WITH 28 STICKS OF DYNAMITE; UNHURT

South Portland, Me., July 4.—(AP)—Police tonight retrieved from Portland harbor twenty-eight sticks of dynamite and sixty detonating caps they said two Portland boys stole from a gravel pit with the intention of exploding as part of their Fourth of July observance.

The boys, 13 and 14 years old, walked through Knightville, a business district, nonchalantly tossing from one to the other a bag containing enough of the explosive "to blow Knightville off the map," A. H. Hudson, manager of the gravel pit, said.

They met Arnold Parker, an acquaintance, and gave him a stick, advising him to explode it if he "wanted to hear a real noise."

Gingerly, Parker carried the dynamite to nearby police headquarters.

Patrolmen gave chase. On Portland bridge, linking the cities over the harbor, the policemen overtook the boys, who tossed the bag into ten feet of water. It missed a concrete abutment by inches.

Police said the boys, whose names were withheld, would be charged with larceny.

BRITISH DISCOVER JULY 4 IS GREAT DAY AFTER ALL

Unfurl Flags and Honor George Washington.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 4.—Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to the court of St. James's celebrated the Fourth of July by returning to England after an absence of a few weeks in the United States to see his son, Joseph P. Jr., graduate from Harvard.

Joseph P. Kennedy.

Kennedy, who had advanced his arrival here by one day, presided tonight over the American society's Independence day dinner.

For some reason Independence day is giving the British a great kick this year. They flew flags over many public buildings and arranged a broadcast to the United States from Sulgrave manor in Northamptonshire in honor of George Washington.

Praises U. S. Foreign Policy.

Washington is looked upon as having one home here and one in Virginia. One might gather the idea that the United States was an adjunct of the British empire with Capt. Anthony Eden, deposed foreign minister, who was the guest of honor at the American society's dinner, perhaps starting his boom for the presidency.

Eden praised American foreign policy and pleaded for better British-American coöperation.

"This does not mean the United States should be asked or expected to pull British chestnuts out of the fire, although there are beginning to be quite a few chestnuts that concern us both," he said.

"Statesmen of the United States have rendered invaluable service by their leadership and by their public declarations in recent years. They have never lost sight of the goal toward which through all the conflicting currents of the modern world humanity must steadily be striving.

Says British Are Grateful.

"For this we in this country, perplexed by immediate problems and grasping at temporary expedients, cannot be too grateful. To lose sense of the objective is the greatest of political calamities.

"Believing as we both do in constitutional government, in freedom of the individual and in racial and religious tolerance, it is inevitable that our aim in world politics should be establishment of international order in which nations large and small can freely coöperate in commerce and in politics for the enrichment of international life."

British newspapers are full of hands across the sea stuff and all the old time undercover propagandists are writing letters to papers like the London Times to say that as soon as the war debts problem can be settled the United States again will eat out of England's hand.

America is gradually being reabsorbed, one would believe after reading Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard, whose New York correspondent sent this dispatch: "In all this revived interest in the reason for celebrating the Fourth of July there is little talk of the British yoke. That is because there are many who, if not willing to sign a declaration of independence from Great Britain, are more than willing to hold hands with her.

"Love of freedom and democracy is drawing the two nations closer and closer together just as once it cleft them apart. It is no longer popular here to attack England.

"The most beloved person in America today is England's Queen Mother Mary. The most coveted goods in American shops are made in England. Washington and Whitehall are coöperating closely. Even the old cry of 'Pay your debts!' is softened to a whisper except for a few diehards.

"And here are a few facts which most Englishmen and many Americans do not know about the Fourth of July and the chapter of American history it commemorates. Although the declaration reads: . . . in congress July 4, 1776,' it was not signed on July 4 at all. It was signed Aug. 2. Yet if you were to ask a hundred Americans why they were letting off fireworks today they would probably say 'Because it is the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.'"

The incident was believed to have been caused by attacks against Father Puder in the National Democratic press.

Bomb Barcelona Suburb; 12 Die; 60 Hurt.

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], July 4.—(AP)—Some of the fiercest fighting of the Spanish civil war raged today in the shell-torn and rocky La Puebla de Valverde sector as the insurgents smashed through government defenses in an onslaught started late Saturday.

Insurgent dispatches declared "new positions of great importance" were captured in the drive which took Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces seven and one-half miles forward over a ten mile front south of the strategic Teruel-Mediterranean highway.

La Puebla de Valverde is 13 miles southeast of Teruel and 56 miles from the Mediterranean by the highway which runs southeast from Teruel to Sagunto.

Bomb Barcelona Suburb.

The insurgent conquests included Aldehuela, three miles from the highway and eight miles northwest of La Puebla de Valverde, and the region about Cubla, four miles south.

At the same time the insurgent air fleet again brought death behind the government lines with a bombardment of Gava, southern suburb of Barcelona, where at least twelve persons were killed and sixty injured.

The "Garden City" suburb of Alicante, Mediterranean port south of Valencia, also was heavily bombed. Several houses were destroyed by explosives dropped by seven insurgent planes.

Drag Guns Up Mule Tracks.

On the battlefield near La Puebla de Valverde the two armies faced each other in a region devoid of roads and human habitation.

The insurgents dragged heavy guns up mule tracks winding amid gray granite rocks to bombard Gen. José Miaja's lines. Rocks afforded the militiamen their only shelter and planes roared overhead to blast away at these formidable natural defenses.

So difficult was the terrain that tanks, which had played a leading rôle in the preliminary fighting, were slowed up.

At the eastern end of the front the belligerents were deadlocked in the Sierra de Espadan range about 30 miles north of Valencia where the government recaptured the strategic Pena Negra mountain.

BRITISH ADVANCE BILL FOR ARMS LOAN TO TURKEY

LONDON, July 4.—(AP)—Britain today took a long stride toward making sure that Turkey would be an ally or neutral in any future war. The house of commons on the second reading approved a bill granting Turkey £16,000,000 [$80,000,000] credits of which £6,000,000 [$30,000,000] is to be devoted to purchase of armaments.

The bill still must receive a routine third reading in the house of commons and must be passed by the house of lords.

Agree to Enter Boycotts.

PARIS, July 4.—(AP)—France and Turkey have agreed that each will boycott any aggressor nation attacking the other, the foreign office announced today. This agreement was contained in the friendship treaty the two nations signed Friday.

GERMANY WILL START WEEKLY TEST HOPS TO U. S. IN MID-JULY

BERLIN, July 4.—(AP)—Lufthansa, the German air line, announced today it would conduct weekly experimental trans-Atlantic flights between Lisbon, Portugal, and New York via the Azores from mid-July until the end of October. Approval by both Portugal and the United States has been given.

Junkers four-motored planes designed for ocean travel will fly once in each direction weekly.

BOAT WRECKED, 1 VOYAGER SAFE AT SHEEP CAMP

Cerro, N. M., July 4.—(AP)—A. S. Hunt, 58 years old, of Denver, was found safe today at a sheep camp where he walked barefooted after his companion in a boat expedition down the turbulent Rio Grande was drowned when their boat capsized.

Taken to Antonito, Colo., from the camp, Hunt insisted on starting back at once to the point where the boat was wrecked.

Not seriously injured, but apparently suffering from nervous exhaustion, Hunt went in an automobile to W. P. Cater's store north of Questa, N. M., on the east side of the river. Hunt said he wanted to salvage his equipment and supplies.

Hunt said he was convinced his companion, E. R. Wakefield, 58 years old, of Denver, was drowned immediately after their eleven foot blunt nosed boat was wrecked on a rock in the Black canyon rapids. Officers denied a previous report that Wakefield's body had been recovered.

SPANISH REBELS OFFER 'IMMUNE PORT' TO BRITISH

Would Not Bomb Ships in Almeria Harbor.

LONDON, July 4.—(AP)—The British government announced today it was considering a Spanish insurgent proposal to designate Almeria as an "immune port" for British vessels trading with government Spain. Almeria, a Mediterranean port held by the Spanish government, is 150 miles east of Gibraltar and almost directly south of Madrid.

Arrow points to proposed "immune port" in loyalist territory as indicated by diagonal lines. Dotted portion shows rebel-held area.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons the proposal was made by Generalissimo Francisco Franco, rebel commander, following repeated British protests against insurgent bombings of British merchantmen in Spanish government ports.

Simon said Franco maintained that ports are legitimate military objectives, but strongly disclaimed any intention of singling out British ships as objects of attack.

Skippers Told of Plan.

The "immune port" idea, he added, was being discussed by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and Sir Robert M. Hodgson, who returned Friday from Burgos, where he has been British commercial agent to the insurgents.

"Shipping interests concerned have been informed of this proposal," the chancellor said, "and the government will naturally take their views into account."

Franco had emphasized his readiness, Simon said, "to put forward proposals which may be helpful in establishing new laws of war in future."

In a barrage of supplementary questions which received no answer was one query whether the government accepted the insurgent denial that the past bombings were deliberate in view of the fact that some ships were attacked at close quarters.

Recalls Bombing by Germans.

Another question which went unanswered was: "Is there any guarantee that this [immune] port will not be bombarded by the Germans?"

[German warships on May 31, 1937, shelled Almeria in reprisal for a Spanish government air raid on the battleship Deutschland. Thirty persons died in Almeria; 26 had been killed aboard the Deutschland.]

On the question of an immune port, Simon said Franco "made certain proposals for guaranteed immunity from attack in a specified port and the suggestion was made that this might be Almeria."

He pointed out that if the idea should be accepted, Franco wanted "suitable guarantees with regard to the nature of the merchandise carried into the port."

Simon deputized in the house for Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain who was receiving an honorary degree from Leeds university.

Discuss Bombings in Rome.

He was followed by Richard A. Butler, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, who admitted Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and Lord Perth, British ambassador to Rome, had "discussed" the question of bombings of British ships.

Replying to a demand that the British government ask Premier Mussolini of Italy to withdraw bombing planes figuring in attacks on British merchantmen, Butler insisted: "We must hold the Burgos authorities responsible for operations of those planes."

ITALIAN BORDER GUARDS SHOOT FRENCH STUDENT

PARIS, July 4.—Two French students mountaineering in the Savoy district were fired upon yesterday by Italian frontier guards. One was reported to have been seriously wounded. It appears that the two lads had crossed the frontier and were 30 to 40 yards within Italian territory when the guards opened fire.

In that district, smuggling is frequent. An excuse is expected to be made that the guards had mistaken the youths for smugglers because the students were said to have run for the French frontier when challenged. However, it was believed that the guards followed them into French territory inasmuch as the wounded student was shot on French soil.

EXPEDITION IS SAFE ON COLORADO RIVER TRIP, EXPERTS THINK

Lee's Ferry, Ariz., July 4.—(AP)—Two government scientists kept close watch on the Colorado river today and reported that the absence of wreckage indicated all was well with the Nevills scientific expedition.

Four men and two women left Green River, Utah, June 20 in the expedition's three small boats and hoped to make their first contact with civilization here Independence day. But the Colorado river and its tributary, the Green, on which the expedition launched its boats, knows no time schedule.

A. J. Hanson and F. S. Anderson of the bureau of geological survey declared their constant scrutiny of the river showed no signs of wreckage. This they held to be a hopeful sign despite the fact the river is now flowing at the rate of 70,000 second feet, compared to 2,000 in July of 1934.

The expedition is composed of Elzada Clover, 40 years old, University of Michigan botanist; her assistant, Lois Jotter, 25 years old, and Norman D. Nevills of Utah, expedition leader; Don Harris of the United States geological survey; Eugene Atkinson, Michigan geologist, and W. C. Gibson, San Francisco artist-photographer.

had been issued by Chinese leaders in Hankow for a nation-wide terroristic campaign to start July 7, the anniversary of the war's beginning.

The 1,500 ton steamer Suzan Maru, one of the many vessels the Chinese sank early in the war to make a boom across the Whangpoo river near Shanghai, was raised after two months' work. Eight more Japanese freighters still are at the bottom of the Whangpoo.

FRANCE SEIZES ISLANDS

PARIS, July 4. — (AP) — French occupation of the strategic Paracel islands in the South China sea, where French and Japanese interests clash, was disclosed today by the foreign office.

The occupation was carried out by fifty Annamite gendarmes under French officers after frequent reports that Japanese were threatening to seize the nearby Chinese island of Hainan in the course of their war against China. In view of possible Japanese action on the ground that the Paracels belonged to China, France had notified the British and other powers of her intention to occupy the islands.

At the foreign office it was said the Paracels would serve as "excellent seaplane bases" in event of war. Although only a group of coral reefs, their strategic value is rated high.

They lie about 125 miles southeast of Hainan and about 250 miles east of Tourane, one of the principal ports of the eastern coast of French Indo-China.

Hitherto Ownerless.

Hitherto the Paracels have been ownerless, although Chinese fishermen have visited them for generations in search of turtles and birds' nests, from which is made a soup which Chinese consider a delicacy.

Sources close to the foreign office said France always has considered the Paracels as being under the sovereignty of the empire of Annam—a French protectorate in French Indo-China.

Japan's reported threats to occupy Hainan have caused French uneasiness because that island commands the eastern approaches to Indo-China. Also it lies near the sea lanes between Britain's far eastern outposts, Hongkong and Singapore, and on June 27 the British government disclosed in the house of commons that Britain and France had warned Japan to keep off of Hainan and agreed to act together in the event of "complications."

Bolster Indo-China Defenses.

The Paracels' occupation came after weeks of reports, frequently denied in Paris, that French warships were concentrating off Indo-China as a precaution in the event of Japanese seizure of Hainan.

So far as actually is known only two small French naval vessels put in at ports near Hainan last week, but the French army command in Indo-China is known to be strengthening the colony's defenses, including fresh recruiting of native troops.

A foreign office spokesman said the occupation could not be considered an aggressive act, although France had moved in before other nations could act.

Observers pointed out that the occupation might be considered another step in France's anti-Japanese moves, marked last week by suspension of all quota imports from Japan.

This was the second time in five years France had taken over islands of the South China sea in which Japan had a strategic interest.

Hold Islands Near Philippines.

In July, 1933, France occupied seven previously ownerless islands some 500 miles southeast of the Paracels between Palawan, one of the Philippine islands, and Indo-China.

Japan protested on the basis that a Japanese fertilizer company had collected phosphates there several years previously and thereby had established Japan's interest. At that time the French foreign office promised to respect Japan's interests in the islets, chief of which were Tempest and Thitu.

The 1933 occupation was undertaken only after consultation with the United States—interested because of the nearness of the Philippines. French officials said then Washington's informal approval had been obtained.

BERLIN, July 4.—It was announced officially today that the last group of German advisers to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, commander of the Chinese army, will leave Hongkong on July 8 for Germany. 16 Inch Guns for Navy

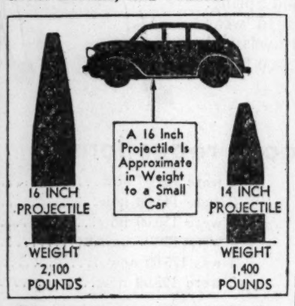
Comparison of the height of a 16 inch gun with the Chicago water tower. This size gun is the largest permitted for naval vessels by a new agreement among the United States, Great Britain, and France.



16 INCH PROJECTILE
A 16 Inch Projectile Is Approximate in Weight to a Small Car
14 INCH PROJECTILE
WEIGHT 2,100 POUNDS
WEIGHT 1,400 POUNDS

How projectile for newly authorized 16 inch gun compares with one for 14 inch gun, size previously proposed by the United States as limit.

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—The effect of the agreement among the United States, Great Britain, and France to limit guns on battleships to a 16-inch bore, as announced in London this week, is to retain the maximum fixed by the Washington naval limitation treaties of 1922.

After Japan exercised its option of refusing longer to be bound by the Washington agreement, the United States first came out for no restriction on size and for 18-inch guns. Then last year the American government proposed to leading naval powers that the limit be set at fourteen inches. Japan rejected this proposal. The pact announced this week arose from reports that Japan is building huge craft beyond the former treaty limit of 35,000 tons displacement.

Several American battleships have 16-inch guns. The Washington and the North Carolina, now under construction, each will have three.

YOU CAN'T WIN

in life's race if you are handicapped by a neglected venereal disease!

Don't allow gonorrhea or syphilis to make you an "also ran," but go at once to your family physician or come to this dependable clinic!

RACE horses that are out of condition are usually out of the money, too. And what's true of horses is also true of men, for life is a race in which the physically and mentally unfit can't possibly keep pace with the healthy.

Gonorrhea and syphilis do more to make "also rans" of men than tuberculosis, cancer, typhoid, and heart and kidney diseases combined. Together they are responsible for an overwhelming amount of disability, as well as for premature deaths to an estimated number of 300,000 every year!

Neglected gonorrhea, for example, may be the cause of a sight-destroying eye infection, sterility, crippling rheumatism, or serious prostate, bladder and other troubles. And neglected syphilis may lead to heart disorders, blindness, deafness, apoplexy, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, and even insanity!

Yet gonorrhea and syphilis can be cured if promptly and properly treated. Today, even the most advanced cases of syphilis can often be arrested and the sufferer assured many more years of useful life.

It's false economy to wait

Hence it's the height of false economy to delay in getting treatment for a venereal disease or to attempt to cure it yourself. For this may result in a stubborn complication that will take months or even years to clear up.

So don't allow gonorrhea or syphilis to slow you up in the hard race of life, but seek competent medical attention immediately! Your family physician will gladly advise you, or you can get confidential treatment at very low cost by consulting the Public Health Institute.

The friendly men and women physicians of the Public Health Institute devote their entire time to venereal infections. Having given more than 5,000,000 treatments to over 250,000 individual patients, they know the worries that beset venereal disease sufferers and thus handle them with the utmost sympathy and understanding.

Each patient of the Institute is promptly attended in a private room, and for the sake of even greater privacy is known by number instead of by name. This insistence on privacy, plus medical treatment of the most advanced type, is why more than one-third of the Institute's new patients are referred to it by satisfied former ones.

Treatments as low as $1.00

Organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, the Public Health Institute offers low cost venereal disease treatment to those unable to pay higher fees. A thorough examination for gonorrhea and syphilis, including urinalysis, smears and Wassermann blood test, costs only $3.00, while some treatments for syphilis cost as little as $1.00 and some of those for gonorrhea still less!

Thus it's foolish to permit a venereal infection to wreck your health and put you completely out of the running in life's race for success. For not only can the best of medical attention be obtained confidentially at nominal cost, but even persons who are temporarily pressed for funds can arrange to be treated.

PRE-MARRIAGE EXAMINATIONS, including blood and other necessary tests, cost $3.00 per person. Those examined before 2 P. M. (at 159 or 169 North Dearborn Street) can obtain their certificates the same afternoon.

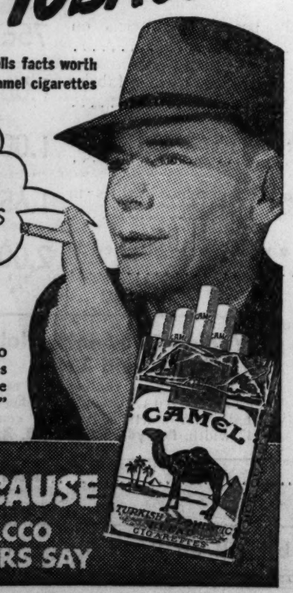
"AS A TOBACCO GROWER, I CAN VOUCH FOR CAMEL'S FINER TOBACCO"

Edward S. Dail tells facts worth knowing about Camel cigarettes



I'VE BEEN GROWING TOBACCO FOR MANY A YEAR! AND FOR YEARS MY BEST LOTS OF TOBACCO HAVE GONE TO CAMEL. OF COURSE, THE CAMEL BUYERS HAVE TO PAY MORE TO GET THE CHOICER GRADES. I'VE SMOKED CAMELS FOR 23 YEARS — ALMOST SINCE THEY FIRST CAME OUT. KNOWING THAT CAMEL BUYS FINER TOBACCO, MOST PLANTERS, I FIND, PREFER CAMELS

WHEN you talk cigarettes to men like Mr. Dail, you're talking to smokers who know tobacco. They know who buys the fine grades and the other grades. And they say: "We smoke Camels—we know the tobaccos that go into 'em—FINER, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS." For more cigarette enjoyment, next time say, "Camels!"

"WE SMOKE CAMELS BECAUSE WE KNOW TOBACCO" TOBACCO PLANTERS SAY

MUSSOLINI BANS WHEAT GROWN IN BIG DEMOCRACIES

Admits Italy's Grain Crop Is Short This Year.

APRILIA, Italy, July 4.—(AP)—"The so-called great democracies" need not expect to sell Italy any wheat despite this year's short crop, Premier Mussolini declared vehemently today. Il Duce, shouting hoarsely, addressed peasants of this grain growing area at ceremonies marking the first threshing of this year's harvest.

While crowds cheered under the hot sun, the premier declared: "The Italian people will have bread necessary for its life. But even if it had been lacking Italy would never, I say never, have yielded to seeking aid of any sort from the so-called great democracies."

Predicts Smaller Crop.

Il Duce assured them he could reaffirm that the 1938 wheat crop would be "superior in quality and slightly inferior in quantity" to the 1937 harvest.

His speech finished, Mussolini stripped to the waist, put on dark glasses, and pitched into a pile of newly harvested wheat which he helped farmers feed to threshing machines.

Government figures estimated the wheat crop would total 256,000,000 bushels, about 36,500,000 bushels short of the nation's needs.

Cites Roosevelt's Speech.

MILAN, Italy, July 4.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, today cited President Roosevelt's speech to the National Education association in New York June 30 as proof that "democracy is at war."

The newspaper based its interpretation on the final sentence of the President's address in which he said, "The ultimate victory is with democracy, and through democracy with education, for no people can be kept eternally ignorant or eternally enslaved."

"It is clear," commented Mussolini's paper, "that democracy is at war and in an ideological camp, against whom Sig. Roosevelt does not specify, but if our preception does not betray us it might be Fascism.

Sees U. S. as War Maker.

"It can be seen now that the United States also accepts the principle of making war without declaring it. Moreover, he speaks of 'ultimate victory,' which means victory to come. He has implicitly admitted then that 'elimination' trials up to now have not been favorable to democracy. As for the rest, we shall see."

2,000 DEDICATE TRUMBULL PARK HOUSING PROJECT

A testimonial letter, signed by the 462 families living in the Trumbull Park housing project, was given yesterday to Representative Raymond S. McKeough for delivery to President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Representative McKeough spoke to 2,000 at dedication ceremonies at the project.

The letter is intended to express appreciation and to refute criticisms that many families are careless of housing property. It thanks President Roosevelt for the project and pledges that Trumbull Park families will conduct themselves in such a fashion as to prove their gratitude.

Speakers included Representative McKeough, Ald. William A. Rowan and J. J. O'Keefe, marshal of a prededication parade sponsored by the South Deering Improvement association and the Burke-O'Malley and other legion posts. Ald. Rowan said: "The Trumbull Park project has written a new declaration of independence for 462 American families."

OBLIGING FRIEND LANDS 2 YOUNG HOBOES IN JAIL

Two Chicago youths found themselves in trouble last night after their arrest with John Grafton, 16 years old, of Canton, O., who confessed fifty burglaries and a robbery in Canton. They are James Gilmer, 18 years old, of 1800 Armitage avenue, and Edward Surma, 15, of 1425 North Wood street.

The Chicago boys told police they met Grafton in Canton while they were on a hobo trip. Grafton, they said, stole a car and drove them to Chicago, abandoning the car on the outer drive when it ran out of gasoline. The three were arrested on suspicion. Police found two revolvers in Grafton's possession.

Cuba Adopts Roosevelt as Son at July 4 Fete

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, July 4.—President Roosevelt tonight was proclaimed "eminent citizen of the Americas," and "illustrious adoptive son of Cuba," in two resolutions unanimously adopted by the Cuban senate and house in joint session. Passage of the resolutions climaxed the greatest Fourth of July celebration held in Cuba since the republic was established 37 years ago.

GAS STATION OWNER ROBBED.

BREAK UP RALLY OF CIO STRIKERS; JAIL ORGANIZER

New Orleans, La., July 4.—(AP)—Police broke the quiet of the labor front here today by arresting Joseph W. Lovett, C. I. O. organizer, from a meeting of cabmen he had called out on strike from the Toye Brothers Yellow Cab company last week.

The arrest of Lovett, charged with attempting to incite a riot and threatening to do bodily harm, came on the eve of a threatened showdown between the company and the strikers.

The company, using the week-end to sign up new employés, announced it would resume operations tomorrow with strong police protection.

Acting Superintendent of Police John Grosch ordered Lovett's arrest.

Twelve persons were jailed last night and this morning in minor labor disturbances.

Found Stabbed to Death in Rooming House; One Held

Joseph Lawrence, 49 years old, was found stabbed to death in his room at 825 Milwaukee avenue last night. John Osida, the rooming house owner, told Sergt. John O'Donnell of the Racine avenue station that he had heard sounds of scuffling in Lawrence's room. O'Donnell searched other rooms and arrested Gabriel Lebrock, 43 years old, for questioning. Police said he was drunk.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR SHASTA DAM; SECOND LARGEST

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—The contract for the construction of the second largest dam in the world, Shasta dam, on the Sacramento river in California, has been awarded by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes to Pacific Constructors, Los Angeles, Cal., a syndicate of twelve construction firms, on their bid of $35,939,450.

Arrow indicates locaton of dam.

Shasta dam will be the key structure of the Central valley federal reclamation project, designed to adjust the water supply of an area 400 miles long and in places almost 100 miles wide.

Shasta dam will be built about 14 miles north of Redding, Cal., and will control the main stream of the Sacramento river through the creation of a reservoir with a capacity of 4,500,000 acre feet. The structure will be 560 feet high, second in height to Boulder dam, which is 726 feet tall. It will be 3,500 feet long, with a slightly curved axis. It will have an overflow spillway in the center and a power plant with a capacity of 350,000 kilowatts will be built at its base

Don't Let Constipation Drag On!

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble!

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B₁.

Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

THE DEMOCRATIC FRONT.

Mr. Roosevelt speaking as the head of the Democratic party and not, he said, as President, revealed that the purpose of the campaign which he begins next Thursday is to convert or cut out the conservative members of the party, which must become wholly liberal.

Liberal has almost ceased to mean anything. Consequently it can mean anything. When politicians apply it to themselves they mean that they are higher types of men and that the conservative is a lower type. They say they have good intentions and fine ideas for the general good and are to be trusted. They say the conservative is a man of selfish nature.

Heretofore parties have contained their conservative and their liberal elements—if these terms are to be used—and a balance was struck between them. The honest conservative asked for more proof than his more mercurial associate required. The one might represent the ferment of new ideas, the other the check and balance of second thoughts. Teamed together they'd take a stride both could keep.

Now Mr. Roosevelt proposes to weed out the conservatives. Their names are many and distinguished in the roster of the Democratic party. He expects it to be a political purge of nationwide extent and great significance. Mr. Roosevelt will be supported by all the radical and revolutionary forces in the country. The communist party has adopted the name Democratic, as will be observed in the Earl Browder party badge, a facsimile of which is reproduced on this page. The name Popular Front for the coalition of radical political elements has been dropped. The communist party is the Democratic Front party.

Mr. Browder, in his testimony last week before the McNaboe committee of the New York legislature, said the majority of his party members had been recruited within the last two years, that they were young Americans or persons who must be naturalized if they are to remain in the party, and that they believed in American democratic processes. They were believers in the principles of Jefferson and Lincoln. Times have changed, Mr. Browder said. He would not now repeat many of the things he previously had said. He would not advocate a mass rising of the proletariat or the seizure of power. The people at this time, he thought, were not prepared for communism or socialism. The communist party therefore worked only for the best aspirations of the common people. No person who advocates the overthrow of government by force could be a member of the communist party. Contrary instructions from Moscow would be thrown in the waste basket.

In the files of the communist international are letters from Mr. Browder and communications from the tenth congress of the party thanking the comintern for the instruction and training in the new party tactics which are to affiliate with the most radical and destructive elements in politics and avoid the reproach of hidden intentions. The Browder badge represents an application of these tactics. So do his speeches and so does the political action of the party.

John Lewis and the C. I. O. are the best organized, largest moneyed, and hardest driving force in Mr. Roosevelt's liberal Democratic party. Lewis more than any other man determines what the political program of the party shall be. There can be no concealment of the dominant position of the communists in the C. I. O., nor of the dominance of the C. I. O. in the Democratic front line.

Lewis in his first stride took Big Steel and General Motors. He took the bituminous coal fields and the bituminous coal commission, putting his man at the head of it. Within a few months he had the business about wrecked and the consumers crazy. He has the labor relations board. The Wagner labor act is a C. I. O. charter. He has the National Maritime union on the west coast under the communist Bridges and the labor board has given it control. The communist control of eastern shipping is notorious.

The sitdown strikes which seized industry shortly after the reëlection of Mr. Roosevelt and had the support of the troops of three states, of the department of labor, and the postoffice, have never ceased. They still seize private property and defy the courts to remove them. The governor of Iowa last week had to threaten to call out the troops to get lawless persons out of property they were holding in spite of a court order. The forcible seizure of industry and of power plants is one of the first rules in communist strategy. It is not necessary to seize power plants here. The federal government is doing that under the TVA and flood control acts. Electric power is being socialized under Mr. Roosevelt. "Electricity plus soviet control equals communism"—the old Lenin formula.

The United Automobile Workers union, a Lewis affiliate with which he won his first big industrial fight, is ripped asunder by the communists. Homer Martin, the president, has fired five board members, including Richard Frankensteen and Wyndham Mortimer. He appealed to Lewis for support but the chief has given him none. Clarence Hathaway of the communist national committee warned Martin that he could not drive the communists out. They now claim the support of thirty-five of the Detroit locals.

In the Bridges National Maritime union, which the labor board has recognized as the bargaining agency on the west coast, the communists felt strong enough to advise Stalinite purges against critics within the union. The American people are mistaken when they think of the communist party in America as an organization of secret cells. It is a legal political party entrenched in the organization which is making a direct attack upon means of production. Mr. Lewis when he works with the Democratic party is the strongest man in it and he recognizes his communists as his hardest fighting supporters. He likes their methods. They seize property.

The communists are organizing the WPA workers under the Workers' alliance. Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, was addressing this body last week when he said that the workers should know their friends and vote for them. The capture of the Democratic party by the radicals, revolutionaries, and communists is promoted by Mr. Roosevelt's campaign against the Democratic conservatives. They are to be driven from place and influence. In the last five years the machinery of communism has been set up within new American governmental agencies outside the ordinary structure of government. The authorities, administrations, and commissions for the control of resources, production, transportation, and trade have been set up. Many of the new laws are collectivist.

There is an organized movement to take over control of the Democratic party, which already is semi-communistic in such states as Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, and Minnesota. Mr. Roosevelt clearly has ambitions to become more than a two term President if not more than President.

A SIGNIFICANT PRECEDENT.

If the revival in the stock market is a forerunner of an upturn in business in the fall, the recession of 1937 and 1938 will be more like the one in Wilson's and Harding's administrations than any other economic relapse. The federal reserve index of factory output in February, 1920, stood at 95. At that point a decline began which lasted thirteen months. In the interval the index dropped to 64 and then began to recover. The fall had amounted to 33 per cent.

The most important cause of the 1920-'21 decline in business was heavy inventories. After recovery got under way it took nineteen months to reach the level from which the recession had started. The round trip from top to bottom and back to top again took thirty-two months. As in the Wilson and Harding unpleasantness, the existence of heavy inventories has had a large share of the responsibility for the latest business relapse.

The decline in factory output has again amounted to almost exactly one-third. The Roosevelt recession started last August. If it lasts just as long as Wilson's and Harding's it will be over by the end of the current quarter. If the analogy holds and business should be let alone it should improve gradually and steadily and arrive at a point equal to the 1937 peak about two years hence.

On another occasion we pointed out that the recovery of the early '20s came without the government doing much to hasten it. Thus there is justification in experience for believing that, let alone, business would be getting better toward fall. But business isn't being let alone. And it isn't going to be let alone.

Whether pump priming can produce as substantial a recovery as would result from the free play of economic forces is a question to which we shall have an answer a year or more hence. Probably it cannot. We know that without pump priming the recovery which got under way early in 1922 following the inventory crisis of 1920-'21 ran on with minor interruptions for seven years.

Editorial of the Day

[Baltimore Evening Sun.]

The President's idea of setting aside a "Citizens' day," on which the ordinary man would discharge at once all his civic obligations, is fine as regards voting, making census returns, and even as regards paying income tax. But when the citizen has done all that he has only made a start toward squaring his accounts with the government. By far the greater part of his contributions simply cannot be made all in one day. Consider the impossibility of paying, all in one day:

The cigaret tax for a year.
The theater tax for a year.
The excise tax on liquor.
The gasoline tax.
The tax on playing cards.
The automobile purchase tax.
The tax on stock transfers.
The tax on cigars.
The tax on cosmetics.
The tax on smoking tobacco.
The state tax on gasoline.
The state tax on cosmetics.
The state tax on property transfers.
The floor tax on liquor.
The import duty on beer, wine, and liquor.
The import duty on silk.
The import duty on wool, woolen cloth and suits.
The import duty on shoes and lether.
The tax on oleomargarine.
The liquor dealers' license tax.
The tax on safe-deposit boxes.
The tax on club dues.
The tax on telegrams.
The tax on long distance telephone calls.
The old age pension tax.
The unemployment insurance tax.
The tax on opiates and narcotics used in medicines.
The inspection taxes on meat and other foods.
That part of postage which is used to pay for carrying congressmen's letters free.
The tax on taxes, such as this year's income tax on that part of your income which you paid last year to the government.

All of these the average citizen pays, directly or indirectly, but none of them can he pay on any one day simply because nobody can calculate the amount. Hence it is impossible for the citizen to do his full duty, or more than a small part of the paying he has to do, on a single occasion. If the payment of taxes is to be the criterion, then every day is Citizens' day.

"Do you remember," said Holmes impressively, "that a fortnight ago I lent you five dollars?"

"I'm sorry, old chap," pologized Gray, "but to tell you the truth, I had clean forgotten."—Montreal Star.

Child of the Ozarks.

Fifteen-year-old Doris, my blonde, lanky "neighbor girl," is a typical child of the Ozarks. The æsthetic aspects of nature are lost upon Doris. A rainbow or sunset must be pointed out to her; she never hears a bird song; and yesterday the breathtaking sight of a hundred black butterflies fluttering about tall spikes of wild blue larkspur in a shaded valley reminded her of a blue and black dress in the mail order catalog.

* * *

In the quaint, the humorous, and the practical lore of the hills, Doris revels! She knows how to make a very good grade of pink, red, and brown ink from crushed sumac berries and the balls that grow on scrub oaks. She knows that chewing slippery elm satisfies our hunger during a long walk in the woods. I've seen her shin up a persimmon tree on a frosty moonlit night and pick a hatful without getting a puckery one. She knows to the drop how much rain must fall to flood Barn Holler to swimming depth or bring Jack's Forks over the new WPA road. She will stoop to touch one leaf of a lacy plant bearing pink ball-shaped blossoms; then a lump comes in my throat and she laughs gayly as each leaf closes like tiny hands clasped in prayer. She will steer me clear of poison oak and poison ivy, and the next moment point out a yellow-blossomed plant, similar to the wild strawberry, which can be crushed and bound on the wound if I should ever run a nail in my foot. She knows nature's jokes, too! Once I trustingly ate a moist green leaf she plucked at the water's edge, and then drank quarts of the icy spring water, in which we were wading, to cool my burning mouth. It was, she admitted between giggles, the leaf of the wild red pepper plant.

* * *

She constantly cautions me to watch for copperheads, which strike without warning or provocation. She taught me that blue racers will stop if I stop, or run after me if I foolishly run from them (and they do!). She scolded me soundly for being afraid of a huge but harmless king snake; and the next day at the river, when I admired a brown baby snake, with tan markings, she shrieked, "Water moccasin!" and killed the youngster with one well-aimed rock.

* * *

She knows that sassafras branches, being green and juicy, make the best sticks for toasting marshmallows; which tree bears the biggest hickory nuts; where the first wild blackberries ripen and the juiciest wild grapes grow; and when I wished for pine cones she led me to an undiscovered pine tree in our very own oak woods! "Ask Doris" is a familiar expression in our home.

Doris has ambitions, too! She longs to go up to St. Louis and become a stenographer.

A STORY OF PRE-WAR DAYS in Berlin was being told a group by Dr. Ernest Zeisler. It concerned an argument as to whether a certain painting was by Da Vinci or by one of his pupils, a discussion that finally reached the ears of the kaiser. Having confidence in his own critical faculty, the kaiser went to the gallery to see the picture, gazed at it solemnly, said pontifically and decisively, "A Da Vinci," and turned on his heel and departed. The German magazine Simplicissimus published a caricature of the incident, with the caption "Veni, Vidi, Vinci." The word cabaret did not reach our language by way of the night club, but was introduced by French Canadian fur traders who came to Mackinac Island in the spring for celebration, we learn from friends holidaying at that popular resort. There was drinking and dancing on the beach, with the young wenches in attendance, and this was called a cabaret. The first book that deals with the early history of Mackinac Island was Washington Irving's Astoria. The latest is Holy Old Mackinaw, by Stewart Holbrook.

MIGRAINE A PERIODIC DISTURBER.

THOSE of us who have observed encounters with migraine realize full well the intense distress which that ailment entails. A peculiar aggregate of symptoms, recurring periodically, includes violent headaches, accompanied by nausea and vomiting. As a rule the attacks burst out without the slightest evidence of any kind of indiscretion which the sufferer can identify. Now and then some derangement of vision, such as blurring, bright lights, or dancing spots, will prove most annoying. The upset of the digestive tract may be so marked that nothing can be retained on the stomach, in which event the patient may manifest a severe lack of fluid. We call this galaxy of complaints a syndrome, meaning a powerful combine upsetting many functions of the body.

What is the nature of the malady? Apparently it is a nervous explosion of some sort, possibly with a hereditary basis or with a family history of nervousness or allergy, such as hay fever or asthma.

The cause is not readily detectable. In fact, thorough studies directed to the eyes, colon, liver, stomach, endocrine glands, etc., have not identified the culprit. The behavior of one or all may be interfered with during a seizure; on the other hand, each and every organ may be performing normally when suddenly an attack comes on.

Despite the most scrupulous adherence to the rules of hygiene and strict attention to diet, migraine may develop again and again at fairly regular intervals. If the signs first exhibit themselves at the age of 15 or 16 they may cease within a few years. The best that we can say now is that each episode appears because of a culmination of forces, although the trigger, or inciting element, is unknown.

With one of these patients desperately ill, the room quiet and dark, the immediate call is for relief. As has been pointed out, physicians have found that in 90 per cent of the cases ergotamine tartrate [gynergen] will bring the "spell" to a rather abrupt close. If this chemical proves effective, we may be sure that migraine is at the basis of the difficulty, as headaches from other causes rarely are relieved through its employment. What does it do? It seems to lessen the caliber of certain important arteries which feed the brain, leading us to believe perhaps that dilatation of these vessels, and hence the congestion of blood in particular areas, may be responsible for pain.

The best effects are produced whenever the drug is used early, and administration directly into a vein is preferred, although introducing the solution beneath the skin is followed by slightly delayed but equally powerful results. In many instances the compound may be taken by mouth. Naturally the dose must be regulated carefully by a physician who understands its action. In this connection we should recall that ergotamine tartrate cannot be used at all should the victim exhibit disease of the coronary blood vessels, liver trouble, or an acute infection. If a small amount of atropine accompanies each dose, the digestive manifestations, which may be produced by the drug itself, will not be observed.

Many patients have found that the feeding of lime will greatly prolong the intervals between seizures, and here calcium gluconate and large quantities of milk are helpful. Of course, if the individual is allergic an attempt should be made to remove the offending substance and if there is an obvious deficiency of some internal gland secretion, that may be corrected.

The true migraine headache is not the steady kind that lasts day after day with no let-up. Now and then pain in the head may be absent, only to be replaced by a type of abdominal discomfort which has given rise to the expression, "abdominal migraine." Each episode usually lasts three or four days, leaving the patient weak, depressed, and prostrated for an additional 24 to 48 hours, after which he is as well as ever until the next session is due.

MAY REQUIRE HIGH SKILL.

Mrs. S. P. writes: I have a cyst on the end of my spine. It gives me no trouble, but my friends think I should have it removed, fearing cancer.

REPLY.

Simple sebaceous cysts rarely become cancerous. Removal, however, is a wise procedure. A special type is called pilonidal and considerable surgical skill is required for complete extirpation.

X-RAY COMES FIRST.

R. M. writes: I fell down a flight of stairs and injured the end of my spine. Is an operation necessary to correct this?

REPLY.

An X-ray plate will aid in making a diagnosis. If the coccyx has been fractured, or the sacroiliac joint has been injured, bed rest will be required. An operation is rarely called for unless the damage is extensive.

My father was a widower and his only relatives were two sons and a daughter [myself]. On Jan. 16, 1934, my father executed the following instrument:

"I hereby assign my two life insurance policies in trust for the benefit of my daughter. I direct that the proceeds of these two policies be used to form a fund of $10,000 to be invested, and that the income from this fund be paid to my daughter annually until she is 30 years old. At that time she is to get $2,500 of the fund. When she is 35 she is to get $2,500 more, and she is to get the balance of the fund when she is 40. She is to get the income in the meantime."

This instrument he handed to me after signing it, and it remained in my possession until the death of my father on

POLITICS AND PUBLIC HEALTH.

Chicago, June 29.—The practice of filling civil service jobs with temporary appointees is so deep rooted in local politics that it can almost be accepted as a necessary evil.

But the health department with its heavy responsibilities is no place for unskilled labor. The work of health, food, and sanitation inspection is much too important to the city as a whole to be intrusted to men whose chief qualification is an "in" with the ward committeeman.

There is a current eligible list [civil service] containing eighteen men who have proven their competence by examination and experience. Then there are the seven who were dropped in 1931 who are even better qualified to guard Chicago's health.

Why does not Dr. Bundesen insure a continuance of his own excellent work by refusing to permit politicians to use his department as a means of rewarding vote getters? R. B.

THE NEW LAW MAY HELP.

Chicago, Ill., June 29.—I want to protest against police indifference when called to a scene of an automobile collision. My car was only forty-eight hours old and was struck by a dilapidated Ford driven by an 18 year old boy, who came around the corner from Margate terrace on Sheridan road at midnight at a speed of at least forty miles an hour. Although witnesses told the officers the boy was clearly to blame, they refused to arrest the boy. It took the police and bystanders thirty-five minutes to separate the two cars. The boy carried no liability insurance. Why can't there be a law passed in this state to protect the cars of innocent people who drive carefully? I have been driving a car for fifteen years and have never hit either another car or a person. Yet I now have to pay to have my car repaired. It is time for the people to deprive the financially irresponsible of the privilege of driving an automobile unless innocent people are protected from their carelessness.

MRS. G. W. WING.

MIGHT ASK WHITE HOUSE.

Chicago, June 28.—I have read in the papers that the government owned electric system in Tennessee has caused a loss of $100,000,000 to the security owners of the nearby electric systems. Roosevelt's unwaranted, unjust attack on utilities has caused millions of our citizens to lose billions of dollars. Why should our President attack these people? What evil have they done? Who has been benefited? It certainly has deepened and prolonged the Roosevelt depression. This attack is comparable to Hitler's attack on the Jews. Can you tell me why the people of Illinois should be taxed to build an electric system in Tennessee?

A WORD TO BICYCLISTS.

Chicago, June 30.—There's no speed limit for bicyclists, as far as I know. But a broken arm or leg sustained in an accident caused by a speeding bicyclist is just as serious and painful as any sustained in an automobile accident. A broken arm is a broken arm, regardless. And carelessness or lack of caution is just as reprehensible in the one case as in the other.

ROSE LURIE.

GELLERMANN AND THE LEGION.

Pontiac, Ill., June 30.—I have read with considerable astonishment your news report on Fascism and the American Legion, the occasion of the article being a thesis by William Gellermann, Northwestern university professor, who received his doctor's degree from the teachers college of Columbia university as a result of said thesis.

I take exception to everything Prof. Gellermann said. I wonder what rating the psychiatric unit of the navy gave him when he was inspected in the detention camp.

I would not cast any aspersions on Dr. Gellermann, but the most charitable thing I can say is that he is certainly uninformed. I am a member of several religious organizations and lodges, but I do not know of any organization which has rendered as great service to its country and the citizens as the American Legion. If you will consult the financial records of nearly any post you will find that over 50 per cent of the money taken in has been expended for child welfare work and charitable uses.

If "Dr." Gellermann will go into any average community he will find that the American Legion enjoys entire support and respect. R. BURNELL PHILLIPS.

A BOSS WITH A BUSINESS BRAIN.

Naperville, Ill., June 30.—My boss has a real business head on him. He doesn't need the "New Deal" to make him see right. When things grew slack he asked all the married women who had husbands working to be satisfied with one salary and stay home and let the single girls or widows have longer hours so they too could live. How many others can brag of a boss like that? E. H.

A RETURNED BATTLE FLAG.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 29.—A news item in THE TRIBUNE early in 1922, concerning the return of a southern flag held by Minnesota veterans of the civil war prompted the return to the state of Tennessee of a confederate flag captured at the battle of Franklin, in that state, in one of the bloodiest battles of the civil war.

The late Gen. E. B. Hamilton of Quincy, one of the officers of the 118th Illinois engaged in that battle, had the captured flag. His widow, Mrs. Mary Hamilton, noted the item referred to in THE TRIBUNE and through the offices of an Illinois friend, then living in the south, returned the flag to the state of Tennessee in a ceremony held in the offices of the late Senator William B. McKinley in Washington, the occasion being the celebration of the 100th anniversary, as of April 27, of the birthday of Gen. Grant.

Mrs. Hamilton died at Quincy on June 18. Her tactful and patriotic act was received with universal appreciation throughout the south. The flag was placed in the state capitol at Nashville.

Chicago, June 30.—A 100 per cent American is one who believes Europe has enough universities, learned men, ethical understanding, and capable thinkers to find its own solution for its problems without calling on America for help, money, or an army. EMIL CARLSON.

TROLLEY REVENUE FOR CITY, AIM OF NEW FRANCHISE

No Hope for Income Under Old Permit.

Changes must be made in the franchise terms under which the Chicago Surface Lines operate if the city is to look for any compensation from the street car system, city officials said yesterday in explaining their proposal to grant no further extensions of the old 1907 street railway ordinances.

W. H. Sexton.

The present intention of the city council, William H. Sexton, special traction counsel, said at a court hearing last week, is to let the old ordinances die July 15 and substitute a temporary franchise requiring the car lines to pay 3 per cent of their gross revenues for the use of city streets. Street railway representatives have indicated they will resist the move and, if compensation is imposed, seek a boost in the present 7 cent fare.

Bus Lines a Threat.

Mayor Kelly said that if the surface lines refuse to pay compensation as proposed by the city council, then the city can move to start bus lines operating in competition with the surface lines.

"We might not be able to force the surface lines off the streets as they can discontinue lines only on order of the Illinois commerce commission," he said. "But I am sure the commission would grant certificates of convenience to new bus lines, particularly if the lines were paying compensation to the city."

According to city transit experts, there is no hope that the surface lines will be required to pay compensation for many years to come if terms of the 1907 ordinances are continued.

The old ordinances provide for a split of the profits of the street car system between the city and the companies. The companies are allowed all of their earnings up to 5 per cent on the book value of their properties, with the city getting 55 per cent of the balance.

No Return Since 1931.

Under this provision the companies paid $47,500,000 to the city traction fund between 1907 and 1931. The profits dropped to the point where earnings were less than 5 per cent of the book value and the city has received nothing since.

A section of the 1907 ordinances provides that if the companies fail to earn 5 per cent the deficiency is accumulated from year to year and deducted from profits of future years before the city gets anything. It is this provision which precludes the city from receiving payments for many years. Between 1931 and 1937, the companies failed to earn the 5 per cent allowance by $11,148,676 and so have a claim for this amount before the city can get any of the profits.

Eight Years Needed.

Even if the companies were able to regain an earnings position equal to the average since 1907, it would take 8 years to make up the present deficiency. From 1907 to 1937 the average annual profits in excess of 5 per cent were $2,450,000.

The companies, however, are now earning far less than the 5 per cent and another substantial increase will be made in the accumulated deficiency in 1938, according to recent earnings estimates.

TAVERNS APPEAL LICENSE LOSS IN SALES TO MINORS

The Chicago License Appeal commission will begin hearings this week on the appeals of tavern keepers and owners of liquor stores seeking to regain operating licenses which were revoked by Mayor Kelly after they were arrested for selling liquor to minors. The commission's docket is the longest in the history of the city.

Members of the commission are State Senator Martin Ward, chairman; Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, and Paul W. Rothenberg, the Republican minority member. It is a quasi-judicial body between the mayor and the Circuit or Superior courts.

Meanwhile Commissioner Allman has issued instructions to police on enforcing the new ordinance which makes minors liable to fines from $5 to $50 for patronizing taverns and liquor stores. The measure, passed at the last meeting of the city council, becomes effective after the council meeting tomorrow if no action is taken to amend or repeal it.

RESUME INQUIRY TODAY INTO N. Y. POLICY RACKETS

Jury to Hunt Source of Tammany Funds.

New York, July 4.—[Special.]—The extraordinary grand jury investigating the operations of the city's far-flung policy racket, when it reconvenes tomorrow will continue its inquiry into the slaying of William Snyder, head of a teamsters' union to which two men have confessed. The jury also will interrogate witnesses regarding the source of campaign contributions in the lower West Harlem assembly district of which James J. Hines, Roosevelt patronage dispenser and friend of Postmaster General James A. Farley, is the Tammany leader.

It was indicated today that Thomas E. Dewey, district attorney, who obtained confessions from Morris Goldis and his brother, William, both of whom were permitted to offer pleas of first degree manslaughter before Justice Ferdinand Pecora of the Supreme court, had not finished with certain phases of the Snyder murder.

Although none of the prosecutor's staf would discuss the investigation it was learned that one phase of the grand jury investigation would concern itself with the report that $25,000 had been spent shortly after the Snyder slaying in behalf of those interested in getting rid of Snyder, who opposed the efforts of racketeers who tried to take over the flour trucking industry.

The Goldis brothers were arraigned Friday before Justice Pecora along with Max Silverman and Samuel Schorr, the latter business agent of Snyder's union, local 138. Silverman and Scharr pleaded not guilty. Justice Pecora reserved decision until Wednesday, July 15, on the acceptance of the plea from the Goldis brothers, after Barent Ten Eyck, assistant district attorney, recommended the pleas be accepted.

Justice Pecora asked for more detailed information as to the reason for the pleas and the recommendation for their acceptance.

The grand jury also will have before it during the week witnesses who will be questioned regarding the source of contributions made in Hines' district. It was reported that investigators from Dewey's office found a number of women listed as contributors of sums from $300 to $1,000, but they denied all knowledge of the contributions.

STEAL HIS LIQUOR, THEN TRY TO SELL IT BACK; 4 JAILED

It was bad enough when Gus Boila opened his tavern at 752 North avenue yesterday morning and found that thieves had taken 14 cases of whisky. But when a salesman appeared later in the day to sell him the stolen whisky, he notified Policemen Thomas McCarrick and Dave Nelson.

They arrested William Manski of 1631 North Halsted street, the salesman, and three other men, Leroy Barschmid and his brother, Clarence, of 805 Weed street, and Joseph Riley of 1545 Clybourn avenue. The liquor was recovered on a boat moored in the north branch of the river. The four men said they coud not understand how the whisky got on their boat.

NEW COLLEGIATE ERA IS OPENED AT KALAMAZOO

Fellowship in Learning Is School's Aim.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 4.—[Special.]—"A Fellowship in Learning" is a phrase which Kalamazoo college, the oldest liberal arts college in Michigan, has adopted as descriptive of its methods and goal in education.

Founded in 1833 as a fusion of the vital and creative forces of religion and democracy which pushed westward the frontier and became the very structure of American life, Kalamazoo enters its second century with this selfsame goal ever before it, in youthful spirit, and with one of the finest college plants in the middle west.

The college begins a new era this summer with the advent of Dr. Paul Lamont Thompson as the new president. Dr. Thompson has just resigned as president of Shurtleff college, Illinois. Dr. Stewart Grant Cole, former president here, has resigned to join the research staf at the University of Chicago.

Course Set for New Day.

It was the late Dr. Allen Hoben, president of Kalamazoo from 1922 until his death in 1935, who set both the spiritual and material course for the college in this new day, when great state and secular institutions overshadow the old liberal arts, church related college everywhere. He advanced the building program on the 25 acre campus, a mile from the center of the city, to the extent of $625,000, increased the endowment to nearly $2,000,000 and wrote a new experiment in education into the words, "A Fellowship in Learning." He expressed this as follows:

"We do not want a college here that is as good as any one of a hundred similar schools. We intend to have a small college that is better than any of them. Our only hope lies in producing something of superior worth, and it must be, in some respects, different from the general run.

Personalities in the Making.

"Where others surrender to the mechanics of education, we will not; where others hand out a commodity like slot machines, we will deal intimately with personalities in the making; where others do a certain amount of work for a stipend, we will do all we can and with a devotion beyond any trade union rules; where others meet a class and then retreat from all student contact, we will set up our homes in the center of student life and live with them for our mutual good.

"This college, through its faculty, is building Christian faith and beauty of life in those who will have their part in the leadership of tomorrow. Our freedom from political manipulation and the fanaticism of certain religious groups is worth defending. The degree of success of colleges of this type will mean much for America as the years pass. Security from popular manias and mob psychology is very important if we are to have honest and thorough education.

"More important than all else is the need of incorporating the principles and spirit of Christianity in the educational process. Unless this can be done through the teaching personnel and in convincing fashion, both by manner of life and by serious study, then our civilization, which is sufficiently shaky at the present time, is doomed to still further disintegration."

Day of Culture Near.

Just before his death Dr. Hoben said:

"The day of culture has never been so near dawning in America as in this dark hour of frustration. And that culture will embrace the physical and biological sciences, too, not merely as tools for the control of natural forces but as insight into the nature of things."

The college is the contribution of the Baptists to higher education in Michigan. It was begun through the efforts of Thomas W. Merrill, a Baptist missionary from New England, and Judge Caleb Eldred of Climax. Through its 105 years it has had many periods of stress and dormancy, alternating with revival. At one time it exceeded the University of Michigan in enrollment. The enrollment this year was 366. The limit for the college has been set at 500.

While Kalamazoo is definitly committed to a four years liberal arts course it has arranged its curriculums to lead toward professional and vocational fields in business, teaching, engineering, journalism, medicine, law, ministry, and social work.

Courses Are Individualized.

It has set up individualized courses and maintains a relationship by which the agencies of city government in Kalamazoo, neighboring industries, and social institutions are open to juniors and seniors for advanced study. Twenty-five per cent of its graduates go on for specialized training in the professions, business, public, and social service. The faculty has been increased to 39.

Dr. Thompson, who studied at Emmanuel Missionary college, the Universities of Colorado and Nebraska, and the Colgate-Rochester divinity school, has taken the lead in the Northern Baptist church for a permanent council on Christian education. At the recent convention in Milwaukee he said:

"The Christian college now has to fight against foes within and without. Not the least of its problems is a lack of awareness on the part of the church people as to what is happening and what is at stake. The church cannot go out of the business of running its own colleges, because the church that does this forfeits leadership in world thought."

During the last year he inaugurated a campaign to rehabilitate Shurtleff college, which is greatly in need of help.

SMITTY—LOOKS LIKE A STORM COMING

177 MILLION CITY SEWAGE WORKS NEARLY FINISHED

Board Makes Report to Supreme Court.

Since last December the sanitary district has spent $4,184,010 on construction work and it must spend $22,343,000 more to complete its program for the treatment of Chicago sewage, Ross A. Woodhull, president of the district, said yesterday in a report to the United States Supreme court. The report is made semi-annually in accordance with a Supreme court ruling of 1930 which denied the right of the district to divert lake water through the sanitary canal.

Under the ruling the sanitary district undertook a $177,000,000 construction program which includes sewers and sewage treatment works. The court decreed that by next January diversion of lake water, which was 6,000 cubic feet per second in 1930, must be reduced to 1,500 cubic feet.

Order to Be Carried Out.

In his report Mr. Woodhull stated the reduction will be made. The average diversion so far this year is 5,426 cubic feet per second.

The report said construction of the Calumet City sewer is completed and the Blue Island intercepting sewer is 54 per cent complete. The southwest side intercepting sewer and upper Des Plaines sewer are completed and a small pumping station for the Des Plaines sewer is 74 per cent complete. The west-southwest treatment works at Stickney, which will handle most of the sewage of the city, is 95 per cent complete or under contract.

Amounts Spent Since Decree.

The following amounts have been spent on sanitary district construction projects since the Supreme court decree was issued:

Calumet project	$ 31,242,818.18
North side project	38,113,746.90
West side project	52,723,986.51
Southwest side project	18,178,325.93
West-southwest treatment works	11,551,617.24
Miscellaneous plants and sewers	632,961.20
Total	$154,408,355.69

Mr. Woodhull reported that including the population and industrial waste the district is treating sewage of a population of 6,475,000 individuals. The estimated population of the district is 4,632,000.

DOUBLE AIRPORT TO BE IN USE BY CITY ON AUG. 15

One Field a Mile Square Ready in Spring.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

By Aug. 15 Chicago will have two municipal airports on the tract of ground bounded by 55th and 63d streets, Cicero and Central avenues. The two flying fields will be separated by the 100 foot right of way of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad that bisects the square mile, but it will be possible to use either or both as airplane landing areas.

This was made public yesterday by H. K. Seltzer, Chicago Works Progress administration director. He said that by the middle of next month the program of installing drainage, preparing and surfacing runways, and putting in field lights and runway illumination on the northern half of the tract will be finished. The rebuilding of the southern half, now in use, was completed Jan. 15.

One Field Eventually.

The seeming duplication of airports will be brought about temporarily by the delay in removal of the C. & W. I. tracks. Legal entanglements have prevented the shifting of the tracks up to this time, but the way now is clear for their transfer within a few months. Then the fields will be one —a mile square.

More than 4,000 WPA workers still are busy on the northern half of the airport. They are finishing the work of paving three runways and of finishing the concrete taxi strip that extends entirely around the edges of the field. There also are gangs of men completing the grading and sodding of the land between the runway strips and building curbings.

Spend More than 4 Million.

Up to June 22, Seltzer said, a total of $4,087,736 of federal funds and $100,624 of city funds had been expended in improving the two sides of the airport tract. To complete the northern half another $640,245 of federal funds already available will be needed.

This money has been used to install 16.9 miles of sewer tile in depths ranging from 6 to 17 feet; excavating 220,000 yards of dirt in preparation of runways; spreading 257,000 yards of heavy broken concrete and brick, and 160,000 yards of cinders as subbases preparatory to paving some 474,193 square yards of macadam surfaced runways. The runway paving was equivalent to surfacing 40.5 miles of 20 foot road way.

Thus far 23,240 feet of electric cable have been laid for the runway and field lights. Another 234,030 square yards of pavement seven inches thick —equivalent to 20 miles of 20 foot roadway—have been laid in the taxi strip. And 99,031 square feet of sidewalk concrete have been poured around the field.

Whole Ready Next March.

Seltzer said that unless court processes prevent his men from commencing the removal of the railroad tracks this fall, the entire field will be finished and ready for use as one of the best airports in the United States by next March 29. Attorneys for the city and for the railroad now are preparing contract ordinances that will be presented to the city council soon.

After these are approved by both parties, the railroad will buy or condemn a new right of way for its tracks, with the city footing the bill.

MILLION CAMERA FANS INVITED TO EXHIBIT IN CITY

Chicago's New Century committee appointed by Mayor Kelly will sponsor a large amateur camera exposition Sept. 2 and 3 on Navy pier, Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes said yesterday. There will be competitive divisions for movie makers, candid camera fans, and for those who take a casual snapshot on the beach or in the park.

Members of the committee urged all camera fans to file their best work —one movie or two photographs—at the offices at 33 North La Salle street before Aug. 24. Meanwhile nearly 1,000,000 invitations have been mailed to individuals and camera clubs throughout the country.

The committee also announced that two girls are to be chosen on the basis of beauty and personality to represent the city at the expositions in New York and San Francisco.

HAMMER MORON GOES ON TRIAL IN RAPE CASE TODAY

Twice convicted on charges of women he attacked with a hammer, Louis Serraille is scheduled to go to trial in Criminal court this morning on a charge of rape.

Serraille, who has had two paroles from sentences imposed for sex crimes, has confessed raping 50 women in the last two years. Prosecutors avowedly are seeking to gain enough convictions to keep him in prison for life.

On June 22 Serraille was convicted by a jury in Judge Joseph Sabath's court of assault with intent to kill a young woman whom he tried to force into his car with blows from a hammer. The next day he was convicted of an identical hammer attack upon another young woman. In each case a sentence of one to fourteen years was imposed.

The rape charge on which he is to be tried before Judge Sabath today was brought by a young woman who says he forced her into his car on April 8, gagged her, and then raped her. Conviction carries a maximum punishment of 99 years in prison.

ZIONISTS ELECT RABBI GOLDMAN AS PRESIDENT

Chicagoan Wins 337 to 223 Over New Yorker.

Detroit, Mich., July 5 [Tuesday].—Rabbi Solomon Goldman of Temple Anshe Emet, Chicago, was elected president of the Zionist Organization of America at the organization's annual meeting here early today. A wild demonstration, in which men embraced each other with joy, greeted the announcement of the vote elevating him to the Zionist high office.

Rabbi Goldman was opposed by Rabbi Israel Goldstein of B'nai Jeshurin temple, New York City. The vote of the delegates was 337 for Goldman and 223 for Goldstein.

Praised by Judge Fisher.

Rabbi Goldman's election took the presidency of the Zionist organization out of New York for the first time in its forty year history. The retiring president, Rabbi Stephen Wise, is a New Yorker.

"Chicago and midwest Jewry is proud to have Rabbi Goldman, a Chicagoan, as president of the organization," commented Judge Harry M. Fisher of Chicago, a delegate. "The feeling of the entire convention is that a brilliant scholar has been selected, a man fully competent in every respect to carry on the work of the organization."

The Zionist World organization is the largest organization of Jews in the world, and its American branch, which Rabbi Goldman now heads, is its largest branch. As president he becomes one of the leading Jewish figures in the world. If custom is followed, he will be reëlected next year. Zionist presidents usually serve two terms.

Did Not Seek Office.

At no time did the Chicagoan seek the office, nor did he ever officially announce himself a candidate. However, he was named as the regular candidate by the convention nominating committee. In opposition, a section of the large New York delegation chose Rabbi Goldstein as a rival. The voting, which was secret, started late last night. The west, midwest, south, seaboard, and New England states, with heavy support from New York, turned to Rabbi Goldman.

After his election he made a brief speech of acceptance and thanks, and said he would announce his program for the year at today's meeting. Rabbi Goldman will be 45 years old next month. He was born in Russia. He has been in Chicago since 1929. He is an authority on Jewry, and has written distinguished works on the subject.

WIFE KILLER FACES TRIAL TODAY.

George Heinold, who killed his wife with a shotgun in a moment of rage in their home at 7201 South Campbell avenue on April 21, is scheduled to go on trial in Criminal court this morning. It is reported he will not ask a jury trial.

FIRESTONE cuts the cost of Fire Safety just at the time when you need a new set of tires. At this time of the year you should replace tires that are worn and smooth for greatest safety during the summer driving season. Tires may look alike on the outside — but inside they are different. The name FIRESTONE on a tire is your assurance of extra safety and long mileage because only Firestone Tires are built with these patented and exclusive construction features:

Gum-Dipping, the Firestone patented process by which every fiber of every cord in every ply, is saturated with liquid rubber, counteracts tire-destroying internal friction and heat which ordinarily cause blowouts. Nine extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord.

Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords under the tread, another patented Firestone construction feature, protect against punctures.

Now that Firestone gives you all of these safety and economy features at these low prices, you cannot afford to take chances with unsafe tires this summer. Come in today and join the Firestone Save-A-Life Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Convoy Tires—the safest tires that money can buy at these low prices.

Daily Routine of Daintiness Assures Charm

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

There's a trick to looking fresh as frosting, once "sizzle weather" comes to town. We may double the number of baths, sprinkle on twice the powder and perfume—and still not succeed in capturing that spick and span look.

It's the girl who sets out to develop a daintiness routine who really outwits Old Man Weather. Her friend who acts on impulse, who rushes for an extra tub and a good dousing of talcum powder and thinks that's all there is to it, is likely to be caught napping. For daintiness means looking fresh as a mint julip all the time—not just after you've whipped on a fresh costume.

Here's a routine to start in warm weather. But you'll want to continue it right on through the year, for real "daintiness appeal."

First, a scrub in soapsuds and warm water at least once a day. The second tub or shower may be cold, but at least one each day should be warm and soapy.

Second, use a good anti-perspirant every few days. This is a safeguard to your clothes, as well as to yourself. If you pat it on under the arm, allow the liquid to dry, then rinse with a damp cloth. Your frock is perfectly safe. One anti-perspirant comes in the form of an ice, which dries so rapidly it can be used while you are dressing. Underarm perspiration not only damages your reputation, but damages your clothes, too.

Turn dresses inside out and hang near the window overnight, before putting them back in the closet. Make the "armhole test" next morning, before deciding between the closet and the cleaner.

Dust shoes with deodorant powder, and gloves, too, if they aren't washable.

Simple, isn't it? Of course, there are other things you can do, as well. It's a good idea to keep an old perfume bottle in each closet and bureau drawer. And try a new coiffure that will take the hair well back off the face.

But the fundamentals are a warm tub, an anti-perspirant, and the armhole test for your frocks. You may use a cream that merely deodorizes, of course, but it won't keep spots away from your clothes, or guard your frocks from perspiration odor. That's what so many girls forget! They themselves are daintiness personified—only the dress is to blame.

Dry Hair Benefits from Brushing.

C. N.: Dry hair needs brushing, plenty of it, to bring forth a greater flow of oil from the scalp. The night before you intend to shampoo your hair, rub some olive oil into the scalp. This will help to clear up some of the dryness.

Record Crowd Sees Races at Arlington Park

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

Perfect racing weather plus the nation's most popular holiday resulted in a record crowd at Arlington Park yesterday. The Post and Paddock, the Jocky club and the grand stands were filled with a colorful throng whose clothes ranged in style from a green wool suit and sables seen in the Post and Paddock to a backless, halter neck, white sharkskin frock observed in the enclosure.

Winning or losing, every one was happy, and one of the happiest in appearance was the junior Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson, whose blue sheer dress was printed in horizontal stripes with galloping white horses. With it she wore a natural straw hat.

Mrs. S. Prentice Porter was in blue too, but in checks and the wide belt had scenes from peasant life embroidered on it. Mrs. John D. Hertz and Mrs. Benjamin H. Marshall both wore white jocky caps; the former's with a black fish net crown.

The Champ Carrys and their weekend guests, the Martin W. Clements of Philadelphia were among Robert F. Carr's guests, who included also the Francis Manierres and Mrs. Robert Hixon. Mrs. William H. Mitchell brought two young racing enthusiasts with her, her daughter, Ginevra and Joy Salisbury, daughter of the Kimball Salisburys.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watts had several young people with them, including their daughters, Miss Banda and Miss Henrietta Watts; Miss Betty Dewey, Miss Pat Churchill, and Billy Zimmerman. Also with the Wattses were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Godschaux, formerly of New Orleans.

Miss Lucille Freeman, a debutante of the season, was with her mother, Mrs. William C. Freeman and Mrs. George Woodruff; the Arlindo S. Cates, the junior Oliver M. Knodes and Stanton Picher were with his mother, Mrs. Oliver Picher.

Others present were Miss Judy Butler, her sister and brother-in-law, the Hugh M. Johnstons; John Creigh and his sister, Miss Virginia Creigh, and sub-debutante, Barbara McClurg, who were getting tips from Gilbert Crowder.

Still others were Miss Joan Ford and her fiance, Harger Rollo; Miss Bette Rich and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph E. Rich; Miss Narcissa Thorne, Miss Beth Coleman, young Philip D. Armour and his fiancée, Miss Julia Henry of Chestnut Hill, Pa., and the William W. Millers and the M. Dutton Morehouses.

Writer Offers Helpful Hints on Sun's Rays

By GLADYS BEVANS.

The new cautions thrown about sun bathing are sufficiently important so that another column should be spent on the subject in order to emphasize it. I feel this strongly, having had experience and having made rather wide observation of sun bathers, large and small, and the results of their procedure.

Yesterday we spoke of the powerful agent that sunshine is for good—but also for harm: that exposure must not be excessive, and that some of the results of excessive exposure are definitly bad and may even be permanently so.

Here are points to bear in mind:

[a] Exposure to the sun should be gradual. This may be effected by exposing first only part of the body—then more and more. Or the gradualness may be accomplished by exposure of the whole body for short periods at first, lengthening them little by little. With a baby's tender skin extreme precautions should be taken.

[b] It is not only bright, sunny weather that burns—just be careful in a wholesale way. I can't go into further details here.

[c] It is usually considered wise to avoid much exposure to sun between 10 and 2 o'clock. At this time of day, if no other time is convenient, sun bathing can be done in the shade—believe it or not; any other time on an excessively hot day one should always be overly cautious, however.

[d] Some illnesses or disabilities are not benefited by sunshine. If your child is ill or convalescent, consult your doctor about direct sun bathing.

[e] Here's another point which may seem obvious but is ignored nevertheless, by many people. Every one, child or adult, has not the same reaction to sun exposure. Some people, usually fair blondes, can stand little sunshine; others can stand a great deal. If nausea, headache, dizziness, chilly feelings, overheating or indigestion follow sun bathing, heed the warnings. But better still, go slow, and prevent the damage.

[f] I have space for only one more precaution today. It is that head and eyes must be shielded from the direct rays of the sun, especially where there are also reflected rays, as on water.

"The Importance of Breast Feeding and How to Wean," is a leaflet of interest to parents. It will be sent on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

For Your Vacation Wardrobe

WOMAN'S AND MISS' PLAY TOGS.

Two patterns today to enrich your vacation time, playtime wardrobe. One is for a shorts and top ensemble with its matching skirt; the other is for a bathing suit in dressmaker style.

The play suit has a rever collarline, zipper or button closing, a cut-away raglan shoulderline, and shorts with nicely plaited legs. This is a grand costume for tennis. With a matching skirt it will do beautifully for hiking and golf. If you like, make the top in shirtwaist fashion, styled the same except that sleeves are inserted. All the sturdy cottons and linens will make up beautifully, and they are available this season in a bewildering array of lovely colors.

The swim suit has an "evening gown" neckline, rather full bodice, and a waistline that points up into the bodice. Around the slim waist there is a narrow sash, and the skirt is full enough to be decidedly graceful. Printed cottons, wash silks, satin, and jersey are acceptable fabrics.

Style No. 2929 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 4¾ yards of 39 inch material for the entire outfit.

Style No. 2786 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 1⅞ yards of 39 inch material, with 1 yard of 54 inch lining.

Shortcake of Many Types Is Dish of Season

BY MARY MEADE.
[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Angel food or butter cake served with crushed sweetened fruit is not truly shortcake, if we're going to be strict about our definitions. But, like a lot of other cookery terms, the word "shortcake" has been pulled and stretched a little at the edges, until now it may be applied to a sponge or butter cake and fruit combinations without objection from any but sticklers for form.

This is the season for shortcakes of all kinds—the original baking powder biscuit type, the cottage pudding type, and the rest. Fresh shortcakable fruits now include peaches, apricots, plums, cherries, raspberries, and blueberries. Each may be used alone or in combination with other fruits to make the dessert. Try combining blueberries with peaches, for example, or mix apricots with raspberries or cherries. Prepare the fruit and sweeten it with as much sugar as you like. Peaches and apricots darken on standing, so shouldn't be prepared too long ahead of time unless they are sprinkled with lemon juice or coated with glycerin to preserve their color. There should be plenty of juiciness about a shortcake fruit, so sometimes it's necessary to crush part of the fruit to get the juices to flow freely.

I've printed recipes for regulation shortcake and for angel cake so often and so recently that I'm not going to include them here. But I'm going to suggest two other types of cake, plain cake, which will do beautifully in the fruit shortcake rôle. The fruit may be served only on top, or the cakes may be split for fruit between the layers, in true shortcake style.

Notice that a different than usual method is followed in making cake with lard, as in this recipe.

Cake Shortcake with Lard.
[Eight Inch Cake.]
2 cups cake flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
¼ cup lard
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together twice. Add three-quarters cup sugar gradually to the lard, which has been creamed, and beat with two tablespoons of the milk until light and fluffy. Stir the egg yolk and vanilla into remaining milk. Beat egg white until stiff, but not dry, and then beat in the remaining one-quarter cup sugar until it barely disappears. Add the flour alternately with the milk, a small amount at a time, to the creamed mixture. Fold in egg white. Bake in an eight inch square pan in a moderate oven, 350 degrees. Split and place fruit between layers and on top. Or bake the cake in a thin layer at 375 degrees and put the layers together with fruit.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake.
[Eight Inch Cake.]
1 cup cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
Grated rind of one-half lemon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup sugar
½ cup hot milk
2 egg whites

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together several times. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored, and add lemon rind and juice. Add sugar gradually, beating it in well. Add hot milk, stirring constantly. Sift in flour mixture and fold it in carefully. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites last. Bake in ungreased pan at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes. Invert on a rack to cool before removing from pan.

With modern equipment and methods it's no trouble to make yeast breads. Mary Meade's "Yeast Breads in the Modern Manner" tells you how. This booklet is on sale for 3 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune tower. Or enclose 5 cents in stamps in a letter to Mary Meade, the booklet will be mailed promptly.

Miss Elizabeth Sutherland to Become Bride

BY JUDITH CASS.

ROMANTIC news that came to light over the week-end is the announcement Mr and Mrs. William Sutherland of Glencoe are making today of the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to George Manuel Fenollosa of Grand Rapids, Mich., son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Sydney Kinsman Fenollosa of Salem, Mass.

Miss Sutherland's closest friends were told about the engagement over the week-end and at the same time they met the young man whom she is to marry in the late summer, for he was here to spend the holiday with his fiancé and her parents.

Miss Sutherland, who is a member of the Chicago Junior league, is a graduate of the North Shore Country Day school and of Dana Hall, and attended the Bouvé school in Boston. Mr. Fenollosa prepared at the Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., for Harvard, from which he was graduated in 1933.

Reveal Engagement of Virginia Jeffries.

At a tea Sunday afternoon in their home in Highland Park, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore Jeffries announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Osborn Ferguson of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ferguson of Dallas, Tex.

Miss Jeffries attended the University High school and Connecticut college and was graduated from the University of Chicago. Mr. Ferguson was graduated from Albany academy, Princeton university, and the Harvard law school. The wedding will take place in the late summer.

Mrs. Daniel Leonard and Mrs. Waldo Gundlach are entertaining at luncheon today for Miss Judith Walsh, who is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Richard Walsh, in Hubbard Woods. Miss Walsh lives in New York. The party will be at Mrs. Leonard's home in Cherry street, Winnetka.

After luncheon the hostesses and their guests will attend a lecture and tea sponsored by the Winnetka Weeders and the Evanston Junior league at the Winnetka Community house. Alfred Hottes will talk on "Continuous Bloom in the Garden."

Plan Art Reception for Swedish Royalty.

The Art Institute has planned a reception for Friday, July 15, when Prince Bertil and his stepmother, Crown Princess Louise of Sweden, will visit the special exhibition of Swedish decorative arts, paintings, prints, and sculpture that has been arranged in honor of the visit of the Swedish royalty. Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf hopes to be present, but if he still is ill his son will represent him.

The reception will be at 12:30 o'clock in Gallery 50. The exhibition will be opened by Gosta Oldenburg, consul for Sweden, the preceding afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at which time the Swedish Choral club will sing.

The Tavern club's weekly dinner-dances will be held on Fridays instead of Thursdays this summer, giving the members the entire week-end for recuperation, if necessary, according to the announcements. The parties will start this week. There will be music on the upper terrace, and dancing from 9 o'clock until midnight.

Polish Arts Club Will Entertain Rodzinskis.

The Polish Arts club will give a reception tonight in the Fine Arts building for Dr. Arthur Rodzinski and Mme. Rodzinska. Dr. Rodzinski is the guest conductor with the Chicago Symphony orchestra at Ravinia park for the first two weeks of the season, last week and this.

Edward Johnson, impressario of the Metropolitan Opera in New York, was an unexpected but welcome guest at the concert at Ravinia Saturday night. He was on his way to Wisconsin for some trout fishing and he stopped in Chicago just long enough to hear the concert. He remarked to a friend that he felt as though he should rush back stage and put on some grease paint and a costume, for he has sung in opera many times at the park.

Mr. and Mrs. James Waller Rogers are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter, Hope Linn Rogers, on Sunday morning at the Lying-In hospital. Mr. and Mrs.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

She walks in beauty who chooses to carry out the ensemble theme in the scent she uses. A sparkling perfume now has its fragrance echoed in everything from hand soap to sachets. It is an irresistible aid to summer daintiness and charm.

The ensemble idea in fragrance is one of the best, we think. Women who are particularly fastidious are charmed with a complete scent ensemble, with everything from soap to sachets giving off the same lovely fragrance.

Such an ensemble has now been built around one famous perfume, a sparkling best seller that has flower-like charm topped with a scintillating note that gives it a certain dash. It's a delightful fragrance for summer or winter, gay and light, but not lacking in interest.

Starting with the perfume, which comes in five sizes, beginning with a purse flacon and working up to a de luxe flacon, the ensemble in this same fragrance includes face powder [a fine one, by the way], toilet water, talc, dusting powder, bath salts, sachets, brilliantine, bath soap, and hand soap. It is the height of luxury to have everything in the same delightful perfume, but in this case it isn't an extravagance. The price range is definitly low, though how they keep it so, considering the quality and the truly exquisite packages, surpasseth our understanding!

The packages deserve attention. All are in a soft blue, delicately enlivened with the fleur de lis. The ornamental motif banding the powder boxes is a masterpiece, sort of a miniature mural of Parisian beauty. There, exquisitely done, you see Notre Dame and its towers, the Arc de Triomphe, the Trocadero, and the Place Vendome. Does it sound like too much of a muchness? It really isn't. . . . These are so beautifully executed they are thrilling to look at and to own.

We advise you to look at this very French ensemble. You may not buy everything in the whole family, but there will be some things you can't resist.

Salvation Army Will Mark Birthday Today; Hold Camp Program

The Salvation Army throughout most of the world today will celebrate the 73d anniversary of its founding by Gen. William Booth. The Chicago area, however, observed the anniversary yesterday at the Army's Wonderland camp near Antioch coincident with the closing program of the army's Central Territory's band camp. More than 300 young musicians who have completed two weeks of band training gave the feature concert under the direction of John Stewart of the Chicago staf.

Commissioner W. A. McIntyre, head of the Central States territory, gave the anniversary address. He reviewed the history of the army from the day of its founding by Gen. Booth in the east end slum district of London to the present day when Gen. Booth's daughter, Gen. Evangeline Booth, commands an international organization operating in 90 countries with a total membership of more than 3 million persons.

New Furniture Style Launched at City's Shows

BY MARCIA WINN.

A new furniture style, one that the manufacturers insist has sufficient basis, body, and beauty, to become permanent, is in store for the homes of America. It is known as Swedish modern.

This became evident yesterday at a preview of the great summer home furnishings markets opening at the Merchandise mart and the American Furniture mart. Of the more than 1,500 lines shown, few were devoid of Swedish modern.

Swedish modern, the furniture stylists say, represents the result of years of groping. They wanted a furniture that would be as clean, simple, and graceful as a skyscraper, one that would sidestep the claws of Duncan Phyff or the gloom of Jacobean, but could still be used in the same room with it.

They started with a style known as modernistic, which, in its angular bizarreness, looked like a bit of King Tut's tomb. This was sobered down to something known as moderne, which was geometrical but little else. The next step was called modern, which was boxy and unbeautiful.

But Swedish modern is different. It is quiet and restful. The lines are simple, but sufficiently curved to be graceful. The wood is light or bleached, calling forth a variety of new woods, and its upholstery of muted or grayed pastels.

Even the lamps follow this trend. Their bases are of bleached wood, their lines simple, the shades usually light and unadorned, although one of suede leopard cloth or python skin will pop up.

One manufacturer shows Swedish modern at the Merchandise mart as furniture of the "fifth decade," so-named by its designer, Holabird & Root, architects, because it emerged after four decades of struggle. It may be used interchangeably in period or modern settings, and its credo is grace of line and well proportioned mass rather than obsolete ornamentation. It looks solid, soft, and comfortable. And is.

Much of the new furniture is known as "functional," serving several purposes. A dining room table folds up into a card table, with spaces beneath its folded lid for linens and silverware. Twin beds have a single headboard and seem a double bed, but can be pushed apart at will. A siesta chair collapses into a bed. A bookcase may be a china cabinet, or a bookcase.

At the Furniture mart one manufacturer is showing an air conditioned mattress. Another has a heater that resembles a cabinet radio, its temperature controled by a dial. From the feminine standpoint, however, nothing can touch in value the new mirrored swivel bench for the dressing table.

This is just a little stool, padded in quilted satin, but it has a high mirror attachment at the back which, swiveling with the stool, makes it possible for the lady to see every angle of her head without turning a muscle.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 4.—(AP)—Mary Jones Hilliard became the bride of Donald Eldredge Jackson Jr. of Providence, R. I., today at Calvary Protestant Episcopal church. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones Hilliard of Pittsburgh, wore a "hoop-skirt" gown of heavy ivory silk faille once owned by her great-grandmother, Mrs. William Carr.

Drama Project Moves Into Big Time and Fails

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The Federal Theater project thought that it had discovered a new play of merit which might be worth $2 a ticket. The management of the Selwyn theater, its seats empty for the summer, was willing to provide a laboratory for the experiment, on the professional basis of sharing box office receipts. This is the explanation of the appearance of "Mister Jim," a WPA production, on the Randolph street rialto last night.

It happens, however, that "Mister Jim" reveals a lamentable lack of judgment among the federal appraisers of manuscripts. The play has less dramatic value than anything the project has staged in Chicago since its inception some two years ago. Although fairly well cast and staged with technical skill, it is cold and dead at birth. Any first nighter, no matter how complaisant or naïve, would brand it with the dreadful word of failure.

There is an elementary test by which a play in manuscript can be distinguished from a nonplay, in which category "Mister Jim" falls. It is this: Is the dialog natural and fluent expression of character in action of some kind or other, or is it merely a mess of words, typewritten in dialog form?" Applied to "Mister Jim" this test discloses the most complete nonplay of recent years. Words minus action is the definition of "Mister Jim."

The scene is the southwest, probably New Mexico; and the characters are desert ranchers. Jim, a tenant, neglects his work because he is a mystic with a yerning to write songs like the Psalms of David. Ejection proceedings are started, but Jim's family, which includes a pretty wife and shrewish mother-in-law, are saved by his discovery of a cave which has possibilities as a lure for tourists. The government rewards Jim by putting him to work writing a guide book to sell to the future pilgrims.

The author has borrowed an epileptic half-wit character from "Mice and Men" and keeps him on the stage in a chronic state of jitters to the acute discomfort of the audience. He has also borrowed the idea of an informal address to the Lord, as grace before meat, from "You Can't Take It With You." The rest of the work sounds like a blend of all the folklorish and hill-billy plays ever written.

Don Koehler gives an excellent performance as the dreaming and spiritual illiterate about whom the story is told. Muriel Bremner is attractive as the wife. The six other characters are acted acceptably.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Life Begins at 40

Hollywood, Cal., July 4.—Is the race always to the swift? Not from the evidence of this profession, which indicates that life begins at 40, 45, 50, and even 60. Take Louis B. Mayer, for instance, one of the biggest men in this industry. He celebrated his 53d birthday today and is a better man in every respect than the kid who hopefully opened a theater in Haverhill, Mass., years ago. Take Billie Burke, Edna Mae Oliver, Al Jolson, Frank Morgan, Walter Huston, Director Frank Lloyd, about to celebrate his silver wedding anniversary; Ronald Colman, Paul Muni, Gertrude Lawrence, Katharine Cornell, Basil Rathbone, Henry Hull, Fay Bainter, Noel Coward, W. C. Fields, Jack Benny, Eddie Cantor, Groucho Marx, Beatrice Lillie, Ina Claire. All of them are doing very nicely at the moment, and the big years are still ahead of them. So look that calendar right in the eye and keep on swinging.

Cecil B. De Mille [the B stands for Blount] is one of the babbling brooks of the industry, for apparently he will go on forever. He has been in the movies since 1913, which gives him an active quarter of a century in the cinema. Next month he will be 57 years young and I wonder if he remembers the main street back in Ashfield, Mass.?

Lewis Stone is Worcester [Mass.] sauce on any screen offering. On his epitaph they should carve this: "He never gave a bad performance." Next November this sturdy veteran will be 59.

Frank Borzage, the Utah ukulele kid, has been going a long time though he is 40 years old. He has been in the movies since 1913, but it was in 1927 that he slam banged into the upper brackets with his direction of "Seventh Heaven." Since then Borzage never has missed the mark by a wide margin. He has contributed a great deal to this industry, and his consideration has given many a performer, scared to death upon appearing before a camera, the courage to carry on.

Forty-nine year old Charles Chaplin is another member of the 25 year club of motion pictures, because it was in 1913 that he signed with Mack Sennett for $125 a week. Ford Sterling was the No. 1 comic of the era, which called for robust physical comedy. Chaplin introduced underplaying to the screen which had favored overplaying, and Chaplin, pitifully dignified underdog, won the unequal contest. Too bad that at the peak of his fame he stopped making pictures at the very time when the world most had need of his laughs.

Wallace Beery, still babbling along, antedates even Chaplin, for Beery has been in show business since 1904 and still is going strong. Beery went from Kansas City to join the Ringling circus when he was 16 years old, graduated from that to singing second leads with Henry Savage shows and then popped up as a villain on the Mack Sennett payroll in 1913. Time and again, the word has gone out that Beery was all washed up in pictures, but he always hits back at his hecklers with a performance that jams theaters.

Pittsburgher William Powell has spent 25 of his years in the theater and on the screen. He will become 46 years old July 29, but he goes back as far as "Within the Law," which was produced on Broadway stage a passel of decades ago. Powell has been making faces at the movie cameras since 1921, and few performers have so long held on to star rating.

Alice Brady, winner of an Academy prize for her performance in "In Old Chicago," thus celebrated twenty years in the profession. From the opening night of "Forever After," on Broadway, the daughter of William A. Brady was touched with stardust, but ever refused to take her fine talent seriously. Her most magnificent job, I think, was in "Mourning Becomes Electra." By contrast, her Mrs. O'Leary in "In Old Chicago," was child's play. Zanuck, however, gave her a wider audience than did Eugene O'Neill.

At 54, Sophie Tucker looks back on a career of thirty years in the show business. At the moment she is heating up hot songs at Ben Marden's Riviera. As long ago as 1910, when Johnson was flattening Jim Jeffries at Reno, Sophie was introducing "Some of These Days" at Chicago, and she's been a headliner ever since. She still answers all of her correspondence in pen and ink, for her energy is astounding. She is a fine woman.

In 1910, when La Tucker was the young singing star of the midwest, Fannie Brice was stopping the show cold in the Ziegfeld follies on Broadway. After thirty years in the show business, Miss Brice, in 1938, is still at the top of the heap with her "Baby Snooks." Louis K. Sidney insisted that Miss Brice would be a radio sensation and installed her on the M. G. M. program. "You can't keep down talent," said Sidney. She proved he was right, because life begins at 40.

The Housewife

Spices come from the four corners of the earth. To get them men crossed unchartered seas in sailing ships. Today the latest news in spices is that a scientific laboratory sterilizes them, removing all particles of dust, chaff, and germs, so that when you get them they are absolutely pure.

They are high grade, too, and if you thought, as we did, that all cinnamon was alike, just take a whiff of the ground cinnamon in this new series of spices. It is marvelous. You can get sets of twelve or twenty different spices, each in a white milk glass bottle, and they are arranged in neat rows, step fashion, on two shelves made of birch wood. Among the many spices available are: Marjoram, thyme, cardamon, anise, mace, ginger, white pepper, curry, caraway, garlic salt, and mustard flour.

Lita Grey Chaplin and Agent to Be Wed Today

Los Angeles, Cal., July 4.—(AP)—Lita Grey Chaplin said today she and Arthur F. Day, theatrical agent, would be married tomorrow at the Catholic Church of American Martyrs at Manhattan Beach. Since the actress' two former marriages were performed by a justice of the peace a Catholic ceremony is permissable, it was explained. Her first husband was Charles Chaplin, film comedian. Her divorce from Henry Aguirre Jr., an actor, became final last Friday. Day is a grandson of the late William Kenefick, Kansas City railroad builder.

Good Morning!

Perhaps this picture is propaganda in favor of the Red cause in the Spanish civil war. Certainly it will not displease anybody in favor of same. But I prefer to consider "Blockade" as an impassioned plea for war's helpless, suffering noncombatants.

The story [it gets rather rambling and confused at times] opens in 1936 on the eve of the present war. You behold the country dwellers of Spain, peaceful, industrious, and ambitious.

Thunder of cannon. . . . Bombs bursting in air. . . . Destruction . . . terror—and, finally, food blockade!

The successful running of this, after weeks of failure to get even the barest of necessities in the way of food and medicine to suffering men, women and children, constitutes one of the film's most dramatic episodes. [Seems to me I saw one much like it recently in a Russian photoplay.]

Henry Fonda portrays a young farmer hurled from his accustomed routine into loyalist uniform—in which he renders invaluable service to his country. And a very fine job of acting Mr. Fonda turns out! Histrionically he's an extremist. Excellent or ump.

Madeleine Carroll is beautiful as a dream and does some most effective work as an enemy spy who sees the error of her ways and joins forces with Henry. . . . John Halliday as the man who has her under his thumb is too much the actor. Other rôles are intelligently handled. Direction, staging, and photography please.

There are some heartbreaking sequences—scenes that, after all, are mild as compared to authentic revelations of the news reels.

[I wonder who'd be Noah.]

SYNOPSIS.

On board the S. S. Panama Queen, sailing from Los Angeles to New York, via Panama, are Anne Sydney, who has a part in a Broadway play, and her crippled and embittered sister, Mena; Arnold Vernon, rich English motion picture producer, and his coldly beautiful wife, Claire; Isobel Butler, who has a stateroom next to the Vernon suite and hopes to get in pictures through him; Alex Reed, young surgeon returning to work after two years' illness, and gossipy Mrs. Panting. Isobel meets and arouses Vernon's interest. She plans to flirt with Alex to allay suspicion. Anne and Alex are mutually attracted. Mena spitefully tells Alex that Anne is a heartless flirt. Pride causes Anne to hold herself aloof from him. At Acapulco, Mexico, Anne accidentally meets Dr. Neil Andrews, a friend of Alex's, who joins the ship there.

INSTALMENT XIV.

ABSURD PRIDE.

Alex could not have imagined Anne allowing herself to be picked up by a stranger, even such an obviously well bred stranger as Neil himself. He said: "There's something here I don't understand. Isobel Butler, yes, but not Anne Sydney. Tell me how you happened to meet."

It was the most natural thing in the world as Neil explained it. That could happen to any girl, even to Anne. Alex was relieved. She was not for him, but she would not be easy for any one else, either. "Well, Neil, you used to like blondes. There's a little one with brown eyes as big as saucers you ought to take a look at. Come along—they'll be up from dinner."

The first girl they met was the ubiquitous Isobel. She came swiftly along the deck looking subdued and elegant in her plain white gown, her hair smoothed back to her ears with a comb, and her curls bunched conservatively at the back. "Why, Alex," she exclaimed, "what became of you? I thought you'd missed the ship."

Alex introduced them. She fell into step between them. Seeing Mr. and Mrs. Vernon standing under the lights waiting for the horse racing to begin, as they approached the afterdeck, she took Alex's arm. Looking in the smokeroom windows as they passed down the starboard side of the deck they saw Anne sitting at the bar drinking mineral water and eating a sandwich. They went in to her.

Isobel with her quick intuition about other women's feelings sensed there was something the matter. Well, there was nothing so good for that down in the mouth feeling as a good laugh.

She let herself go and began to wise-crack in her old form, feeling that in the newcomer she would have an appreciative audience. Soon she had them all laughing.

Mena came along searching the promenade deck and public rooms in her determined methodical fashion. It remained a party of five for the evening.

Dancing with Anne later, Alex was wildly tempted to take her up to the boat deck and lay a determined siege to her heart in spite of her very clear indication that she would not welcome it. He resisted it. If he did that he would lose the little that he had. Her friendship was immensely precious. He must keep it always. Unconsciously his arm tightened on her flexible waist.

Anne's pulses leapt. She had been tortured by doubt ever since her wild pride had pushed him away from her. Suppose she had, after all, been wrong? There was something about Alex which gave the lie to her conviction that he was trying to flirt with her because Mena had indicated that it would be easy.

She glanced up under her lashes at his face. She could not read it. It looked stern a little—the mouth set—as if he were keeping something under control. He does love me, she thought. He does want me. She hated the noise, the chatter, the fatuous crooning of the band leader, the startling crash of the cymbals. If they could sit up there in the silver darkness—

"Excuse me," said Neil Andrews and cut in on her. She was so light and he was so strong and exuberant that she found him doing the dancing for both. She hardly felt the contact of her feet with the waxed timbers of the deck.

But she was glad he had captured her. She had been just about to make a fool of herself again. It didn't mean because a man sought a girl on a ship's cruise, was attentive to her, even tender, that he loved her—the kind of love she called love.

THE FIFTH DAY.

They were out of sight of land again—the vast expanse of water oily and the sky colorless with heat.

He was delighted by her stamina and vitality. She had been dancing till two in the morning. Here it was eight and she was in motion again, regardless of the humid day and looking as fresh as a wild rose with the dew still on it.

He could hardly believe his luck that he had been so quickly, so violently attracted by a girl whose immediate physical charm had transpired to be matched with a cultural intellect last night and this morning with the wiry resilient constitution necessary for unconventional travel.

"So you don't mind the heat?" he said.

"So fan—good. Have you ever worked hard enough to know whether you are easily tired?"

That made Anne laugh. "Why should you be so interested? But I certainly have. I've rehearsed till every one else in the cast was sleeping on their feet, and then gone home alone and rehearsed some more."

"So you're an actress?"

"Yes. Why not?"

"Precarious career, isn't it?"

"Also yes—why not?"

"So you don't mind working hard, missing your sleep and taking chances?"

"To save you asking me. Thought you were going to offer me a job or something."

Neil joined the laughter against himself. "I see I shall have to drop the medical attitude and remember I'm on a vacation." He would have to drop cross-examining her, too. She was too much of a mind reader. He didn't want her to guess the cause of his interest in her till his mind was made up.

The real girl—the girl he'd have to live with—that was the girl he wanted her to show him. She'd have to be good tempered, affectionate, sanguine, and resourceful, as well as thrilling to kiss.

They parted laughing in the cool air conditioned dining salon—he to a table near the Vernons for two, she to her usual place. Mrs. Panting already was there. Alex came in, but to Anne's surprise he nodded and smiled and joined Neil Andrews at the little table.

Mrs. Panting looked up and glared at the two men. "They wanted me to give up my place here to that new man," she said. "Can you believe it?"

Anne said placatingly. "Maybe Dr. Reed had asked for it at the beginning of the trip?"

"Not at all. He booked that table over there when he came on board. Why should he want to change his mind? And why should I be asked to put myself out?"

Beau Grabber Needs Lesson on Own Terms

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I have a girl friend of schoolday standing, who has a remarkable personality. She has the kind of personality one does not find in every one. Every time she meets a boy friend of one of us other girls, she takes the boy away. Men just fall for her so easily. Then, after she has enjoyed the satisfaction of having gotten him away from the other girl, she drops him. It happens every time she is introduced to a boy.

"Now I received an invitation from my best beau to attend a party at which this girl will be present. To date, I have succeeded in keeping him from meeting her. At the party I won't be able to escape introducing them, and then it's 'goodby' for me. She can't help it. It's a mania with her. She just has to take the other girl's beau.

"As you probably guess, I am crazy about this beau of mine. I guess it is the real thing with me and, while he has not talked love to me, I suspect that he cares as much as I do.

"Is it smart, or not, to tip your beau off to what kind of girl she is? Or, is it better to let him find out for himself? I want desperately to know. WONDERING.

We doubt if it would profit you any to attempt to prejudice your beau against the demon beau-grabber. Men do not understand the subtleties [and the cruelties] of such members of the feminine sex. They accept the girl for her attitude toward them individually.

Not even a parade of the girl's discarded victims will convince a man in the alluring toils of a maid that his fate may be the same. So openly attempting to dissuade a man away from another maid is bad poker playing. It can be done, but it must be done subtly and cleverly and with a rival personality that can't be resisted.

But why don't you girls get together and gang up on the romance wrecker. Call her down. Warn her that if she doesn't play fair with you, you will do something to bring her to time. Or, drop her from your social doings long enough to teach her a lesson.

You don't have to let the boys know that you are ganging up on the girl, or they'd run to her rescue en masse. They'd see you girls for a lot of persecutors of a poor, defenseless girl of whom you all are jealous.

You will have to take your chances at the party and trust to fate and your own ingenuity to beat the girl at her own game.

"Fields and Fences" is one of the older pieced patterns and is based on a simple four patch design. It is singularly reminiscent of the tobacco fields around Danville, Ky., and the manner in which they are laid out. The large pieced block is set together with other pieced squares to form an all-over design. Either printed or plain materials may be used singly or in combination, depending upon the individual interpretation of "Fields and Fences." Only thirty squares are required for a coverlet, so it is readily seen that a quilt in this design may be made in a brief space of time.

Repeal Saved Hotel Business, Managers Agree in N. Y. Survey

New York, July 4.—[Special.]—The hotel industry agrees, it was revealed today, that the repeal of prohibition has saved many hotels from bankruptcy, has increased employment, has reduced drunkenness, almost eliminated the youthful drinker, confined drinking largely to the middle-age groups, and greatly lessened bootlegging.

Of the 178 managers reporting decided benefits to the restaurant business, their number disclosed increases of food sales ranging from 20 to 300 per cent. Almost 200 managers reported employment increases ranging from 20 to 50 per cent in the hotels of New York City to 500 per cent in some of the small up state hotels.

WORK ON FIRST AUTO DRIVE-IN THEATER IS STARTED IN NEW YORK

New York, July 4.—[Special.]—An outdoor automobile motion picture theater, said to be the first in New York state, will be erected in Valley Stream.

The theater will be opened in about six weeks. It is to be laid out in a series of semi-circular graded ramps which will elevate the fronts of each row of cars so patrons may view the pictures above automobiles in front of them.

Pictures will be projected upon a 60 by 48 foot screen placed well above ground level. The angle of projection will be slightly upward instead of down as in the usual motion picture theater.

Quezon Will Be Dinner Guest of Jap Foreign Chief

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

TOKIO, July 4.—Foreign Minister Kazushige Ugaki will entertain Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippines, at dinner July 7, but the foreign office declares this is purely informal and unofficial. Quezon has not yet arrived in Tokio due to the floods. He insists the trip is purely recreational.

FREUD, KING FOR DAY, SIGNS BOOK OF ROYAL SOCIETY AT HIS HOME

LONDON, July 4.—(AP)—Dr. Sigmund Freud, old, saddened, and sick, was granted a privilege today that never before had been accorded any one but a British king.

The famed Jewish psychologist, a self exile from Austria, has been a member of the Royal society since 1936. Because his physicians have forbidden him to leave his St. John's Wood home, the charter book of the Scientific society, containing the 280 year old record of its members, was taken to Freud's house for his signature.

A society official said it was the first time the book had been removed from the organization's headquarters except for the signature of a king.

Deans of Men, Women Named at Illinois College

Jacksonville, Ill., July 4.—[Special.]—President H. Gary Hudson of Illinois college today announced the appointment of Dr. Ernest G. Hildner of the Macomb State Normal faculty, as dean of men and the appointment of Miss Eleanor McFall of Grinnell college, Ia., as dean of women and instructor in physical education. Dr. R. H. Lacey, who resigned as dean of men, will remain as Edward Capps professor of Greek and Latin.

Students Hurl Darts at British Premier as He Gets Degree

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 4.—Two university students whistled, catcalled, hurled paper darts and pellets, and kept up a running fire of interruptions when Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was invested with an honorary degree of doctor of laws at Leeds university today. Chamberlain appeared calm despite the noisy reception.

Prof. Hamilton Thompson, who presided, recalled Chamberlain's work as chancellor of the exchequer and described him as a "humane taxmaster" who studied the taxpayers' capacity for shouldering burdens.

To the accompaniment of running commentary from the students, Chamberlain talked on the growing complexity of the international problem facing his government. Darts and pellets skimmed around the ears of those on the platform, but none hit Chamberlain.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Many alleged bridge players should suspend their bridge careers for a short while to take up the study of pure logic. An error in technique, such as faulty timing, can be committed by almost any one, and there is no great blame to be attached thereto. When the only question involved, however, is one of pure and simple logic, there is not the slightest excuse for going astray.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	1 diamond	1 heart	1 spade
2 hearts	Pass	3 hearts	3 spades
Double	Pass	Pass	4 diamonds
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

Obviously West's spade bidding was of the psychic order. His object was to coax a double of spades so that he could run to diamonds, his partner's suit, and perhaps be doubled there also. North did not fall for this ruse, however. He doubled the spades but, when the four diamond runout came, sensed what was going on and continued with his own heart bidding.

West took off to the only opening lead that could have defeated the contract, namely, the spade jack. Declarer made matters simple for the defenders [although apparently not simple enough] by putting up dummy's king, only to have it smothered by East's ace. Now East, confronting a dummy that made it completely obvious that if there were no more spade tricks the contract could not possibly be set, made the "brilliant" shift to the diamond king. West did the best thing possible, by overtaking with the ace and shifting back to a spade, but the damage was irreparable. East's blank queen blocked the spade suit and West never could regain the lead. East shifted to a trump and eventually declarer discarded his losing spade on dummy's fourth club.

It would have required an extensive search to find an angrier man than West. With vitriol fairly dripping from each word he asked East: "May I inquire what you intended to do with that blank queen of spades? Maybe you were saving it for Thanksgiving, to stuff the turkey!"

East's reply was characteristic of the player who only thinks he thinks. "How could I tell," he protested vehemently, "that you had bid and rebid spades with a four card suit? It is your own fault for psyching."

"O, yeah?" came from West. "Well, I'd like to ask you just one question. What card did you intend to lead after presumably taking the trick with your diamond king. Maybe you were going to lead a club up to the A-Q-J, or a trump. And, finally, maybe you can tell me what tricks we could take, aside from a diamond, unless we could get some more spade tricks."

East had no answer to this question and, indeed, there was none. Usually the bidding must be taken as a guide to the play, but in this case East had nothing to think about! The dummy made it perfectly obvious that the defenders could take no more than one diamond, no club tricks and no hearts, East's own three hearts being a guarantee that West could have no more than a singleton. Even if West had the club king it would be worthless in front of the A-Q-J. Thus the fact that West had bid and rebid spades, superficially indicating a long suit, was of absolutely no consequence. It was absurd for East to keep the blank queen of spades in his hand. Obviously, had he laid down that blocking card and then led his diamond, West would have overtaken and cashed a third spade for the setting trick.

Write to Sally Now, Youthful Cub Fans Urged

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We have room for 50 boys and 50 girls and if you want to be one of my guests, you'd better get busy!

On Thursday, July 14, the Chicago Cubs will play Philadelphia and Philip K. Wrigley has generously invited us as his guests that day.

You youngsters who are ardent Cub fans will be eager to come, I know, and I'm anxious to take the children who really love baseball and to whom this game will be a real treat. You'll have a chance to see some of your favorite heroes. I don't know who is most popular with you youngsters; you may tell me that in your letters if you care to.

If you wish to be included in the party, write to me and tell me why. I'm going to try to select as my guests the youngsters who are really most anxious to see the game. Remember, however, that each child must write his or her own letters. You can't win if you have your mother do it for you, and you can't win invitations for other children, either your sisters or brothers or the kid next door. Your letter must include your full name, address, and age, and it must reach me by next Thursday, July 7, in order to be judged. All letters will be read on that day and the names of the winners will be printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

I'll tell you more about our party tomorrow, but right now you'd better sit down and write that letter about why you think you'd enjoy the game. Please don't get so excited that you forget those three important items: name, address, and age! Many of you forgot one of these items last week and you can't win that way, you know. The address is Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

You youngsters who've been invited to our ice revue party had better keep your eyes peeled for the mailman. He'll be along any minute with a letter for you. If by any chance your address was printed incorrectly, telephone me immediately.

Veterans' Band Stirs Throng at Park Concert

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Tens of thousands of Chicago's citizens chose to include a visit to last night's Grant park concert among their observances of the 162d anniversary of America's independence. They filled every seat in the great sky roofed theater opposite 11th street and spilled over on to the lawns which stretch outward toward the drives, the lake, and the Field museum.

Here—sitting on benches, blankets, robes, and papers, or sauntering about after the manner of the European promenade concert — these people heard the fourth in the series of sixty-seven lake front concerts which the Chicago park district, in cooperation with the Chicago Federation of Musicians, is presenting free to the public.

The attractions last evening were Col. Armin F. Hand and his American Legion band, assisted by vocal and instrumental soloists. The program bowed to the Fourth of July by presenting a few martial and patriotic numbers, but it included also a large measure of music of a more general character. There were even some operatic excerpts.

Henry Thompson, the tenor who generously jumped into a "Butterfly" cast on a few hours' notice last season and saved the show for the San Carlo Opera company, sang twice in the course of the program. Audience applause made it expedient for him to repeat a verse of "La Donna è Mobile," from "Rigoletto."

Jess Vance, a member of the band, offered a popular tune in a smooth, chocolatey voice. Richard Stross played one of those bewildering cornet solos and brought on what the announcer described as a terrific ovation. Stross followed it with "Trees."

If there are more agile drummers in the world than Edward B. Straight their work must be intended for another order of beings. The human ear can follow no rhythms faster than those which Mr. Straight is able to pass out so easily.

The band played richly and rhythmically, stirring up the warlike ardors of even the most pacific members of the audience. The themes from "Andrea Chenier" were done in truly grandiose style.

Money Low? Then Shopping Is Better Fun

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Summer shoppers have fun. The less the cash supply the more fun for the hunters. Rough straw hats without an iota of trim can be bought for a song and tied on the head with a band of cotton print one time, an old length of ribbon another, and for special occasions a band of velvet ribbon.

Cotton jackets come in white and pastels, also yours for a pretty penny or two. See the beauties with a front zipper, a slick appliqued chest pocket, and a fitted streamline to contrast your small waist and flared skirt. If you haven't tried wedge sole footgear yet, satisfy your yen for it with any of the sandals found in one breath taking collection for around $3. Get them in patent lether or fabric, with plain straps or eyelet crisscross straps. These go with slacks, sports clothes and cotton dance dresses with a fine fashion flavor.

Wear a bunch of artificial flowers sewed to a ribbon band instead of a hat. Try jade green carnations and chartreuse green ribbon. Or buy a flock of varied colored petunias, and a few green leaves, sew them to a cerise band, tie it coquettishly at the side and, presto, an unusual evening hat for very little money.

A bunch of vividly colored nasturtiums is another good topper, tied with a burnt orange grosgrain ribbon. It goes with your sheer blacks or white dotted Swisses, daytime or evening. For amazingly small amounts you can buy flowered chiffon nightgowns. Tie a contrasting ribbon sash around the middle and be the belle of any ball. The skirts are really wide and full. You can't tell them from any of the more expensive wide skirted plaited dance dresses.

SEABISCUIT RUNS SECOND TO WAR MINSTREL

SOX WHIP BROWNS TWICE; CUBS AND CARDS SPLIT

WHITEHEAD IS 5 TO 4 VICTOR; KNOTT WINS 2D

Jack Defeats His Old Pals, 5 to 1.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

John [Yum Yum] Whitehead and Jack Knott, two great big boys who pitch for the White Sox, yesterday led the revived south siders right into sixth place in the American league standings, and lifted the Sox's recent laudable accomplishments to seven victories in their last eight games. Whitehead registered his sixth victory in setting down the Browns, 5 to 4, in the first game, and Knott his second successive triumph against his former associates in the 5 to 1 second encounter.

Yesterday's successes gave the Sox a string of six straight victories over the Browns in eight days, the process being interrupted while the St. Louisians swept a three game series with the Detroit Tigers over the week-end.

The White Sox concentrated their attack in the first game in the fifth inning, when they made all their five runs. These were off Jim Walkup, who, in seeking his first victory of the season, suffered his ninth loss.

Radcliff Lends a Hand.

The temperature conscious Whitehead, who thought the weather was hotter than it turned out to be, spotted the Browns three runs at the outset of the first game, then breezed along with the breeze, especially after the five run fifth. By the way, there were six hits in that jolly fifth, the most potent of which was a triple by Rip Radcliff, with two on, good for three of the five runs, as things turned out.

Knott, who defeated the Browns, 11 to 1, on four hits last Thursday, was ahead of the enemy all the way, after the Sox scored in the second inning of the second game. He was over zealous to make a play in the seventh or he would have had a shutout. He allowed only six hits, two of them infield scratches. Van Atta, like Walkup, trying for his first victory, suffered his fifth defeat.

FIRST GAME

Whitehead seemed to be worrying about the heat as he took the mound after a gentle warmup before the first game. Almada opened the game with a single to center and scored on McQuinn's triple off the right field wall. Clift popped to Hayes, but Bell singled, scoring McQuinn. Kress lined to Steinbacher and Hayes threw out McQuillen.

The happenings in the Browns' second scarcely could be blamed on Whitehead's physical condition. With one down, Heffner reached first when Kuhel dropped Owen's throw. Walkup sacrificed and, when Owen made a bad throw, Heffner reached second and Walkup first. Almada knocked his second single to center, scoring Heffner. McQuinn hit into a double play.

Berger had tapped to Heffner and Sewell had fouled to Sullivan before the Sox launched their big fifth. Whitehead got the rioting started when he walked. Hayes doubled to left, Whitehead stopping at third. Steinbacher singled to right, scoring Whitehead and Hayes. Kreevich singled to right, then Radcliff came through with his second successive extra base hit, a triple to right, Steinbacher and Kreevich scoring. Owen singled to left, scoring Radcliff.

Almada Gets Fourth Hit.

Whitehead, working nicely under the refreshing lake breeze, held the Brownies away from the plate in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings

Boy Killed by Racing Auto; 17 Injured

Ho-ho-kus, N. J., July 4.—(AP)—A 10 year old boy was fatally injured and seventeen other spectators were injured today when two automobile racers locked wheels and plunged into the infield crowd at the Ho-ho-kus speedway's races.

The boy, who died shortly after being admitted to Hackensack hospital, was identified as Peter Thompson of Ridgewood, N. J. The boy's father, David, was in the same hospital in a critical condition.

The accident occurred as Fritz Brehm of Bayonne, N. J., and Henry Guerand of Newark, N. J., approached the starter's flag in ninth and tenth positions for the start of the thirty lap, fifteen mile main event. The rear wheels locked near the starter, Francis Fanning of West Orange, and both cars swerved toward him. Fanning was thrown five feet into the air and landed on the track.

DRIVER IS KILLED.

BILLY WINN WINS.

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—(AP)—Billy Winn of Detroit won the twenty mile feature event in the A. A. A. dirt track races at Lakewood park today. Duke Nalon of Chicago set a new track record of 40.6 seconds for the mile in the feature dash. Tony Willman, Milwaukee, won the five mile challenge race and the trophy for the best record for the two day meet.

CUBS RALLY IN 8TH; SO DO CARDS; BOTH WIN, 4 TO 3

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 4.—The Cubs came preciously close to a double triumph in their holiday business with the Gas House gang today.

Seemingly whipped by their old associate, Lon Warneke, in the first game, they rose up in the eighth inning with a three run blast which fastened down a 4 to 3 victory. Then they were well along to success in the second game, but the Cardinals, taking a lesson from the previous contest, unleashed a four run eighth inning barrage and achieved an even break by the same score.

The second game appeared to be a cinch for the Cubs because of the manner in which Clay Bryant approached the finish. At the end of the seventh, the Cards had only four hits and no runs, whereas Bryant owned a three run lead earned off Bob Weiland. But Bryant lost his cunning in the eighth and Charles Root, who had saved the first game, was called upon again. This time, however, the old wizard wasn't able to stave off the two hits which drove in the men Bryant had put on base.

Tough on Warneke.

In the first game the Cubs weren't especially successful against Warneke, at least not for seven innings. They hit one line drive after another only to have somebody, usually Pepper Martin, stagger into a brilliant catch. But their luck adjusted itself in the eighth. What they hit in that inning wasn't touched, the ingredients for the three runs being a single by Billy Herman, a double by Carl Reynolds, and a single by Ken O'Dea after Rip Collins, in the rôle of a pinch hitter for Larry French, had walked.

All the Cardinals' runs were scored during French's régime, but the southpaw wasn't to blame for all that happened. He surrendered an untainted run in the third, but in the sixth the Cardinals made two because French's helpers went berserk. Reynolds and Jurges uncorked wild heaves. Reynolds, however, redeemed himself not only with his winning double, but with a leaping off the wall catch which ended Root's first rescue attempt and robbed Ducky Medwick of an extra base hit.

FIRST GAME

French held the Cards hitless through the first two innings of the first game, but Warneke opened the third with a single to center on the first pitch and this soon developed into a run. Stripp sacrificed and S. Martin fouled to Cavarretta. Bordagaray then singled to right and Warneke should have been out at the plate with room to spare, but Demaree's throw-in stopped almost dead

Two girls waiting on a corner for a bus to take them home from work. One of them must have asked the other about a movie she had seen the night before, because the reply ran like this:

"Well, it was the one about where he makes out he's a millionaire's son and she pretends she's a debutante or whatever you call them. The audience knows by twenty minutes after seven that he drives a truck and she works in a telephone exchange, but they don't find it out about each other till just a few minutes before nine. Then he says, 'Honey, why didn't you tell me?' and she says 'Darling, I was afraid of losing you' and then he says 'Silly little kid' and they kiss and—O, for Pete's sake, Marge, there goes our bus, let's make a run for it."

All-Star Game.

Four times the Junior leaguers
Have slapped the Nationals down
In the annual All-Star battle,
Which travels from town to town.
We'll make a little suggestion,
Show the Nationals how to win;
They'll find it very simple
If they put these players in.
At first play Buddy Hassett,
At short, Durocher will do.
Debs Garms to play the hot corner,
Lazzeri at base number two.
For infield reserves we mention
Scharein, Warstler, and Ryan.
When the game gets tough and the chips down,
At least these guys will be tryin'.
In the outfield put Koy or Reynolds,
Bob Seeds and Winsett should play.
If that's not enough, use Dusty Cooke
Or Stanley Bordagaray.
As catcher insert Mr. Riddle
Or maybe Mervin Shea.
Their duties should be simple,
Few balls will come their way.
For pitchers, there are a number,
We'll mention just a few;
Start with MacFayden or Turner,
Then Hubbell his bit could do.
Next follow with Weiland and Russell,
Bowman, Shoffner and Brown,
Perhaps Bucky Walters and Weaver
Could really go to town.
Maybe this guy Cascarella,
With Coffman, Logan, and Root,
Aided by Hamlin and Tamulis
Could give their opponents the boot.
But, regardless of what might happen,
The game will surely intrigue,
For all of the guys we mentioned—
HAVE PLAYED BALL—IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

IRISH FIGHTERS REACH AMERICA; CHICAGO IS NEXT

New York, July 4.—[Special.]—Ireland's amateur boxing champions, who will meet ten of the outstanding fighters of the Chicago Catholic Youth organization in the annual C. Y. O. milk fund show in Soldiers' field on July 13, arrived today aboard the Queen Mary.

The invading group, consisting of ten boxers, a delegate, a trainer and a manager, were given a rousing welcome as they stepped off the ship. A number of New York residents of Irish descent and a troop of New York C. Y. O. Boy Scouts greeted them. The fighters are: John Healy, flyweight; Frank Kerr, bantamweight; Harry Fisher, featherweight; Jimmy Smith, featherweight; Ernest Smith, lightweight; Corporal Willie Moore, welterweight; Tommy Byrne, welterweight; Dick Reade, middleweight; Dick Hearns, light heavyweight; and Matt Lacey, heavyweight. Frank Cooper is the trainer; Mike Heaslip is the manager, and Paddy O'Carroll is the delegate.

They're All Fit.

Cooper said the boxers weathered the trip well and every one is ready for the battles with the C. Y. O. lads. The Irish champions trained daily en route.

After checking their luggage at their hotel, the visitors were taken on a tour of New York by Tom O'Connell and Mike Murphy, Chicago C. Y. O. officials, who are here to accompany them to Chicago. The boys called on Jack Dempsey and later attended a show in Radio City Music hall.

The Irish delegation had lunch with Dempsey in his restaurant and everyone in the group was presented with an autographed picture of the former heavyweight champion.

Ireland's champions have a date tomorrow with Mayor Fiorello La Guardia in the summer city hall on the World's Fair grounds. They will leave New York tomorrow and will arrive in the Chicago Union station at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Hold Funeral Tomorrow for Mlle. Lenglen

PARIS, July 4. — (AP) — A steady stream of relatives and friends of Suzanne Lenglen filed through her Auteuil apartment today to pay last respects to the great tennis star, who died this morning after a two years' illness.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at the Notre Dame de L'Assomption church. After the services Mlle. Lenglen's body will be buried in the suburban Saint Ouen cemetery.

Mlle. Lenglen died in her sleep after losing a stubborn battle against pernicious anaemia complicated by sinus trouble. She was 39.

"I am at the end of my tether," were her last words, muttered to her mother as she dropped off to sleep eight hours before her death. The mother, Mme. Charles Lenglen, spent the night at her daughter's bedside.

Physicians said Mlle. Lenglen's illness was partially due to overwork in her direction of a government tennis school, in which she was active to the time she was bedridden.

Fear for her life was first expressed last Wednesday when she was given a blood transfusion, after which she rallied. She had a final relapse late yesterday.

Mlle. Lenglen turned professional in 1926 after having been one of the greatest stars in women's tennis since 1914, only two years after she learned the game from her father.

CHICAGO HORSE BEATS FAVORITE BY 3½ LENGTHS

40,000 See $10,000 Arlington Race.

Seabiscuit, the great turf champion from the Pacific coast, ate humble pie at Arlington Park yesterday afternoon but he won most of cheers of the more than 40,000 spectators who watched him finish second, beaten by three and one-half lengths by War Minstrel owned by Mrs. Emil Denemark of Chicago.

The track was so slow Seabiscuit scarcely could get up a gallop during early stages of the tenth running of the $10,000 Stars and Stripes handicap, but he finally got his long legs moving in rhythm. Then it was too bad for all the horses in front of him except War Minstrel.

Seabiscuit started from ninth place on the last turn into the stretch, then he mowed 'em down.

The Big Rally Starts.

When he started this drive the only horse behind him was Melodist, a stable mate of War Minstrel, which had carried Seabiscuit wide on the first turn.

Mrs. John Hertz's Count Arthur, a double winner of the Saratoga Cup, was the first to succumb to Seabiscuit's late rush. Next the Texas 4 year old, Eagle Pass, surrendered. Then Seabiscuit flew past Grey Gold, a colt from Detroit. The Nash Brothers' Burning Star got a fleeting glimpse of Seabiscuit a half furlong out as the mighty Pacific coast horse flitted past him.

On Seabiscuit rushed and Jocky George Woolf was cracking him with his whip. Next to fall before his drive was Chance Ray. Then he flew past Arab's Arrow and Main Man and rushed into second place.

War Minstrel Holds Lead.

War Minstrel, with a feather of 107 pounds on his back and the beneficiary of twenty-three pounds pull in the weights, was nearly four lengths in front of Seabiscuit. There was less than a sixteenth of a mile to go.

Seabiscuit tore after War Minstrel. He made up ground but the distance was too short for him to catch up. War Minstrel, running easily and at home in the going, went on to win by more than three lengths, but was driving hard and was ridden out.

The time for the mile and an eighth was 1:54 1-5. The quarter had been run in :24 3-5, the half in :45 4-5, the three-quarters in 1:14 3-5, and the mile in 1:41.

Jocky Woolf said that all through the early stages, Seabiscuit could not or would not stride more than a dozen feet at a time. His natural stride is more than 22 feet.

Winner Returns $18.

Seabiscuit was the favorite at 9 to 10 in the betting. War Minstrel, son of the great mudder, Royal Minstrel, and War Feathers, was an outsider in the wagering. He paid $18, $4.40, and $3.60 across the board. Seabiscuit was at $4 to place, more than he would have paid to win, and $3.60 to show. Arab's Arrow paid $9.60 to show.

Both War Minstrel and Seabiscuit are grandsons of Man o' War. War Minstrel's dam, War Feathers, is a daughter of the golden stallion. Seabiscuit's sire, Hard Tack, is a son of Man o' War.

On the first turn Melodist, War Minstrel's roommate, went wide and carried Seabiscuit out with him. Melodist immediately dropped back into last place, and stayed there until the finish.

Positions did not begin to change until they hit the lower bend. Then War Minstrel rushed to the front and Seabiscuit started the drive that carried him past all the others except the Chicago owned 4 year old.

War Minstrel now has the distinction of beating both War Admiral and Seabiscuit within a week. In the $50,000 handicap, run over a muddy track at Suffolk Downs near Boston last Wednesday, War Minstrel finished third, back of Menow and Busy K. War Admiral was fourth in that race.

Total betting for the afternoon was $768,538. This was $30,693 more than was wagered at Arlington on the Fourth of July a year ago.

SEABISCUIT TO HEAD WEST

Seabiscuit is scheduled to leave for the Hollywood track in California tomorrow morning. He will try for the $50,000 Gold cup race there on July 16. He will be returned immediately to Chicago to compete for the Arlington Gold cup on July 30.

Fair Knightess, one of the favorites in Saturday's running of the Matron handicap, was limping yesterday. She struck herself with a mud caulk soon after the start of the Matron.

The maddest man at the track was C. L. Alsop of Indianapolis. He jumped in a cab at Congress and Michigan avenue at 1 o'clock and told the driver to take him to the race track. The driver took him to Lincoln Fields. He finally arrived at Arlington just before the fifth race and still was arguing about the cab fare when the field paraded to the post for the Stars and Stripes.

Post time for the first race was delayed fifteen minutes when word reached the track from the North Western station in Chicago that thousands of customers would be late. The North Western operated trains at ten minute intervals from 12:30 to 2 o'clock.

"There positively will not be an offer made by Arlington Park for a $100,000 match race between any horses this season," John Hertz, chairman of the Arlington executive board, said yesterday in answer to reports that such a race might be attempted.

PROS, AMATEURS JOIN IN TODAY'S GOLF HEADLINER

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association will present an innovation in Chicago district competition today when its regular pro-amateur tournament is held at the Techny Fields club. Jock Anderson, home professional and chairman of the tournament committee of the Illinois group has announced that each professional may bring as many as three amateurs with him as partners, instead of the customary one. This system has been used with great success in the far west, and it was decided at the annual meeting of the Illinois members last spring to try it out this year.

More than 100 father-and-son combinations will take part Thursday in Midlothian's thirty-fifth annual Pater-Filius tournament, one of the outstanding events of the game. Sixty teams have entered to date. Nineteen of these will be making their first appearance in the tourney. Among the professionals who will take part in a special pro-son event are Jock Hutchison Sr. of Glen View, Jack Daray of Cherry Hills, and Joe Roseman of Pickwick.

The Chicago Women's District Golf association will hold an intra-district team match at Medinah tomorrow. The Southwest league, newest of the district's golfing families, will gather in Aurora on Thursday, and the C. D. G. A. will hold one of its regular one day handicap events in Western Springs on Friday.

N.B.A. COMMITTEE RATES GALENTO NEXT TO LOUIS

Washington, D. C., July 4.—(AP)—The National Boxing association today ranked Tony Galento as No. 1 heavyweight challenger to Champion Joe Louis.

Galento's rating was based on his "consistent knockout victories and the fact that he is willing and anxious to meet Joe Louis or any other heavyweight, Baer or Farr preferred," according to Harvey L. Miller, chairman of the ratings committee for the N. B. A.

Fenske Gets His Wish to See World on A. A. U. Team

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chuck Fenske, Wisconsin's Big Ten mile and half mile champion, who was beaten by Glenn Cunningham by only 6 inches in the national A. A. U. 1,500 meter race Sunday, always has wanted to travel. Fenske also is waiting to take his first ride in an airplane.

Fenske's wishes will be granted. In fact, he'll be a well traveled young man by the time he completes the athletic tours arranged for him by the A. A. U.

Fenske will start in a few days for Sweden as a member of the team of eight American athletes who will compete in Stockholm July 20, 21, and 22 and then tour Sweden and Norway. But on July 24 or a day later, Fenske will fly from Stockholm to England to join the American team of nine other athletes to compete in the meet in White City stadium in London on Aug. 1.

German Meet Is Largest.

Then Fenske will rejoin his compatriots in Sweden and eventually travel to Germany to compete in the meet there Aug. 10 and 11.

The German meet is the largest, for Germany has requested that two American athletes be chosen to compete in each of the standard Olympic events and that a relay team also be sent. Consequently the boys who travel to England and to Sweden also will go to Germany, but Fenske is the only athlete who will make all the important meets.

Teams, Coaches Named.

Ohio State's Dave Albritton, who lost his national A. A. U. high jump title to a former team mate, Mel Walker, only because he had more trials at lower heights although tying Walker at 6 feet 7 inches, seems to have been lost in the shuffle of athletes bound for Europe. Walker was sent to England. Sweden will not take more than two colored athletes in its list of eight, so Albritton tentatively was assigned to Germany along with Walker, and Gil Cruter of Colorado was sent to Sweden. Later the committee decided that Cruter and Walker would compete in Germany.

BY BOB BECKER.

Now that I'm going to make a trip to Wisconsin or Minnesota I am in a quandry. Have read many of your tips on where to go, but failed to clip the articles. Do you have these suggestions listed or do you have the dates of the papers in which they were published? I would appreciate any help you can give me. Am interested in both trout streams and bass lakes.

[Signed] E. W. WAGNER.

We have available quite a number of good fishing places which we can send to you if you'll tell us the parts of Wisconsin and Minnesota in which you are interested.

Better write and tell us how far you will travel for your fishing, whether you want fly or bait casting for bass, if you want to stay in a cottage or at a regular fishing camp, and if you want brook or brown trout.

WAR MINSTREL, never great distance back and saving ground while racing under restraint, responded when called upon after three-quarters, got to the front inside the last eighth and steadily drew out. RARE BEN was under good rating for three-quarters, was put to strong pressure when challenged on the stretch turn, shook off FLYING BREEZE in the last eighth and had something left. FLYING BREEZE, in hand for three-quarters, responded to pressure thereafter and held on well but wasn't good enough. Washington, D. C., July 4.—(AP)—The New York Yankees went into a tie with Cleveland for the American league lead today, winning the first game of a double-header with the Senators, 10 to 5, and tieing the second, 4 to 4. The Yankees were leading Washington 4 to 2 in the ninth inning of the second game, but the Senators then shoved across two runs. Neither team was able to score again and the game was called because of darkness at the end of the 13th inning. Scores:

PHILLIES, BEES SPLIT.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 4.—(AP)—The Phillies and Bees divided a double-header today as the local National league club made its debut in Shibe park. Boston won the first game 10 to 5 when it broke a 5 to 5 tie by scoring five runs in the eighth. Wildness of Boston pitchers, coupled with sound hitting by the Phillies gave them the second game, 10 to 2.

Cubs Defeat Cardinals, 4-3, Then Lose, 4-3

Nice Work

The Cubs' first run in the fifth began with Gutteridge booting Demaree's grounder. Wild Man Martin made a kneeling, circus catch of Cavarretta's short drive, but Jurges singled to left for the second Cub hit. French's tap to Warneke forced Jurges at second. Jurges, however, took care that a double play wasn't completed. He rammed into Gutteridge and knocked the ball from the lad's hands. Demaree then tore for the plate and made it.

Frenchy Gets Fancy.

Pepper Martin singled to open the sixth and the panic was on. Gutteridge singled to left and Pepper lit out to third as if there was nothing to fear. There wasn't. Reynolds' return throw bounced past Hack into the Cards' dugout, so Pepper continued to the plate, Gutteridge taking third. French retired the next two men and Stripp should have been the third out, but Jurges threw wild to Cavarretta and Gutteridge scored.

In the eighth Jurges lined to Pepper Martin. Collins batted for French and walked. Hack tapped to Warneke, who made the put out himself. Herman whacked a single through short and Collins scored. Reynolds, who had been robbed of two hits on drives to the outfield, then hoisted a fly to right and Bordagaray figured on a fancy catch by leaping up in front of the wall. This was very nice of Frenchy. While he was leaping, the ball was bounding back toward the infield, giving Herman time to score, the tying run and Reynolds time to reach second. Then O'Dea singled to right center and Reynolds carried home the deciding run.

SECOND GAME

The second game opened with Weiland walking Hack. Herman was thrown out by Stripp and as third base wasn't guarded, Hack went that far on the play. S. Martin threw out Reynolds after a stop back on the grass and Hack should have scored on this play, but apparently was confused. However, he got home a moment later on Hartnett's double into left. Marty fouled to Bremer.

The Cubs collected two runs in the seventh inning by exploding three hits before any one was retired. Demaree singled to center and scooted to third on Cavarretta's single to right. Jurges singled to center, driving in Demaree. Cavarretta moved to third on Bryant's force of Jurges and scored while Bryant was being forced by Hack. Herman then walked, but Reynolds flied to Pep Martin.

Bordagaray came up to bat for Weiland at the start of the eighth and his single to center put Bryant on the skids. Stripp singled to right and Bordagaray went to third. S. Martin popped out, but Slaughter scratched a hit past Herman, Bordagaray scoring. When Medwick fouled to Cavarretta it appeared as if Bryant might save his own hide, but Padgett singled to center to score Stripp, so Root was summoned for the second time. Pep Martin beat out a hit to Jurges back of second and Slaughter went home with the tying run. Gutteridge singled to left and Padgett scored to put the Cards ahead. When Mize appeared as the hitter for Bremer French replaced Root. Mize flied to Marty.

Cincinnati, O., July 4.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds had their home run guns primed today, getting three, but five errors, four of them in the second game, spelled disaster, and Pittsburgh continued its victory march by sweeping a double-header, 2 to 1, and 3 to 2. The double victory brought to twenty the number of games won by the Pirates this year by a one run margin. Scores:

SHIPPERS PLACE TRAFIC 19.6 PCT. UNDER YEAR AGO

Shippers in this country estimate that in the third quarter of this year they will require 5,155,115 freight cars from the railroads to handle their business, a decline of 19.6 per cent from the 6,413,014 cars actually loaded in the third quarter of 1937, according to forecasts just compiled by the thirteen shippers' advisory boards and made public yesterday by the Association of American Railroads.

The decline expected by shippers throughout the country nearly coincides with the decline expected by shippers in the Chicago district [the midwest district] for which the predicted decline is 19.3 per cent. The estimated decline for the second quarter as compared with the second quarter of 1937 was 17.7 per cent.

One Region Expects Gain.

Only one board, the central western, expects an increase. This board estimates that it will need 5.2 per cent more cars than were handled in the third quarter of last year.

Of the twenty-nine commodities included in the estimate, increases are expected in only six—all falling under agricultural products. The six commodities which are expected to show increases are grain, flour meal and other mill products, citrus fruits, other fresh fruits, live stock, and poultry and dairy products.

Grain loadings are expected to show a 15.2 per cent gain and citrus fruits are expected to show a gain of 60.8 per cent.

Expected Declines Listed.

Among the larger declines are the expected 67.7 per cent drop in automobiles, trucks and parts, the 41 per cent drop in iron and steel, and the 40.2 per cent drop in ores and concentrates.

The following tabulation shows the actual 1937 third quarter loadings for each board, the 1938 third quarter estimated loadings and the percentage of decrease or increase:

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Start New Apiary

July 4, 1938.

STRAY honey bees that find their way into the woods at the Tribune's Du Page county farm are being captured whenever possible and used in the establishment of a new apiary. This apiary, it successfully set up, may serve as an emergency honey producer to take the place of another apiary established two years ago at the farm.

American foulbrood, a brood disease caused by a spore forming bacteria, was discovered recently in the older apiary. Only one colony was infected and it was promptly destroyed. The hive, frames, combs, bees and all were burned.

Both apiaries will be examined frequently to protect them from this disease. It has caused trouble in various parts of Illinois as well as in most of the United States and Canada.

Brought in from Outside.

The two apiaries are nearly a mile apart. The infected colony had been in good health since being taken to the farm in 1936. It is believed that the foulbrood germs were carried by bees from an infected colony elsewhere in Du Page county. Bees are known to fly great distances in search of flowers and men at the farm say it is possible the infection was brought by the farm's bees from infected areas two miles away.

American foulbrood is reported to be increasing in Illinois. Apiarists consider it the most destructive of all brood diseases. If the germs are not put under control they kill the entire colony. Healthy bees often rob colonies of diseased bees. In this way new colonies of healthy bees become diseased.

The malady is difficult to detect in its early stage; signs of the germs frequently go unnoticed until it has reached a fairly advanced stage. In combs that are diseased the worker brood cappings are perforated. Dead bee larvae or grubs will be found in each cell. Frequently the bees have been dead for some time before they are discovered. The dead larvae assume a flattened shape at the bottom or base of the cell.

Larvae Change Color.

Healthy larvae are pearl white. In the diseased colony found t the farm the other day the dead bees were brown. Apiarists find that soon after the larvae die they turn to a gluey or ropy substance and stick to the bottom of the cell.

The ropy material formed a thread when an attempt was made to dig it cut of the cell with a toothpick. Some of the larvae were dry, so dry that they had become hardened and adhered to the cell like scales.

Two colonies of stray Italian bees already have been found in the woods. They were lured into hives and are at work storing up their winter's supply of honey. Last week a third swarm of bees settled for a few minutes high up in a bur oak near one of the farm homes. Later on the bees moved around the house and clustered under the eaves. The men were unable to coax them into a hive.

June Receipts of Live Stock at Low Level

Combined receipts of all classes of meat animals at the Chicago stock yards last month were the smallest since last August, and second smallest for June since 1884. The volume of meat animals declined in contrast to an increase in receipts during the corresponding months in 1937 and 1936.

The total of cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep at 650,981 head showed a decrease of 56,806 compared with the May receipts. A year ago there was an increase of 65,000, June over May, and two years ago the June increase amounted to 75,000 head. Supplies of all live stock except hogs were smaller during June than in May.

Chicago receipts for three years follow:

Pere Marquette Railroad.

Investors' Guide: I am interested in securities of the Pere Marquette railroad. Please send me a report.—A. B. R.

Answer: Serving the important industrial districts of Michigan, the Pere Marquette railroad depends to a large degree on the automobile industry. Because of this dependence, revenues and earnings have fluctuated rather violently over the last decade. Fluctuations have been accentuated by the fact that another important source of revenue, the furniture industry, also has experienced widely contrasting degrees of prosperity in recent years.

The bulk of Pere Marquette's 2,116 miles of track, is in Michigan, although it also serves Chicago, Toledo, and Buffalo either over its own track, trackage rights, or connections. A Canadian division of the road reaches 319 miles into Canada, terminating at St. Thomas, Ont.

Automobiles, steel goods, petroleum products, iron, and other items in the miscellaneous and manufactured goods classification usually make up about one-third of total freight tonnage and supply about half of revenues.

Reflecting the present depressed condition of automobile manufacturing and other manufacturing industries, the road lost $1,488,150 in the first four months of this year, compared with a net income of $896,542, or $1.12 a common share, in the corresponding 1937 period. The record of earnings in recent years follows:

1936	32,459,080	2,758,004	3.50
1935	28,478,082	1,633,298	1.00
1934	24,597,190	*612,127	*3.98
1933	21,947,295	*1,599,471	*6.17
1932	21,461,227	*3,044,611	*9.33

*Deficit

Long term debt is about $70,500,000. The road has outstanding 112,000 shares of 5 per cent cumulative $100 par prior preference stock, 124,290 shares of $100 par 5 per cent cumulative preferred, and 450,460 shares of $100 par common.

After clearing up arrearage on the prior preferred last year, the road has passed payments due this year. No preferred or common dividends have been paid since 1931. The road is controled by the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and plans have been discussed for merging it with the C. & O.

The road reported current assets of $5,325,170 and current liabilities of $4,696,132 on April 30. Funded debt due within six months is $292,000.

TREASURY FINDS NEW WAY TO BURN MONEY; CLOCKS ON FURNACES

Washington, D. C., July 4.—(AP)—New incinerators with time locks are being installed here to destroy worn out paper money and redeemed securities of the United States treasury.

The locks will be set in a such a way that the paper will be completely destroyed before the incinerators can be opened. The idea is to prevent any one from rescuing the valuables from the flames and taking them.

The new system will replace the present method of destruction through steam and alkali reduction.

DOLLAR HIGHER IN LONDON; PESO TAKES TUMBLE

The United States dollar closed 1-16 of a cent higher in terms of the pound at $4.95¾ in the London foreign exchange market yesterday. This compared with a closing quotation of $4.95 11-16 for the pound in New York over the week-end. In Paris the dollar finished at 35.3825 francs [2.787 cents to the franc]. The franc in New York over the week-end was 2.785 cents.

The Mexican peso fell to five to one against the dollar in Mexico City for the first time since the period immediately following expropriation of foreign oil properties by the Mexican government in March. Bankers attributed the slump to recurring rumors [which officials denied] that the Bank of Mexico was preparing to peg the Mexican unit at five to the dollar.

Ickes Urges Price Cuts on Building Materials

Washington, D. C., July 4.—(AP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes urged building material manufacturers tonight to follow the example of the steel industry and reduce prices of their products. He said in an address prepared for a radio forum that such a reduction "if followed in other lines of business, as it ought to be, will be of material aid in the President's program to help business and reduce unemployment."

WHEAT FALLS AT WINNIPEG IN LIGHT TRADING

Needed Rains Cause 2½-3½ Cents Dip.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 4.—(AP)—Winnipeg wheat futures hit the skids in a quiet session on the grain exchange today owing to widespread and beneficial rainfall in western Canada. At the close prices ranged from 2½ to 3½ cents a bushel down with July at 99½ cents, October at 80½ to 80⅝ cents, November at 79½ cents, and December at 77¾ to 77⅞ cents.

Intermarket trade was practically dormant with the United States on holiday.

Cash Wheat Neglected.

Cash wheat was neglected and spreads on Nos. 1 and 2 northern quoted prices 1 cent easier. Durums slid ½ cent. None of contract grade of Canadian wheat was quoted on deliverable basis although 2,000 bushels were put through in clearing up July contract wheat.

Trade in coarse grain was dull and price fell. Oats and flax was dormant, barley was down a cent at low points. Rye off 2 cents and oats down 1½ cents.

LIVERPOOL, July 4.—(AP)—Wheat futures swung erratically today. Irregularity was promoted early in the session by reports of North American rains. The close was weak, following news of lower prices at Winnipeg.

Everyday Economics

Cash Grain Trading.

Visitors to the Chicago Board of Trade often are impressed with the fast and apparently reckless manner in which buying and selling orders are carried out in the futures market. Although transactions in futures contracts are not as careless as they seem—mainly, just fast—even the most fastidious person could not object to the manner in which deals are made in the cash market.

Before grain is sold in the cash market, it is carefully inspected, tested and graded. The seller brings a sample to the trading tables. There is no doubt about the quality or quantity of grain involved. If a prospective buyer is interested in that particular variety of grain, a deal may be made, but no guess work is involved.

Transactions in the cash market are a matter of barter. Buyers and sellers get together in the same manner that the housewife and the grocery clerk get together and talk things over. Sometimes the buyer and seller haggle a long time before a deal is made. There is rarely the frantic haste that is found in the futures pit.

N. Y. Exchange Chief 'Grew' Into His $48,000 a Year Job

Both Presidents Now

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

The New York Stock exchange's first salaried president, William McChesney Martin Jr. of St. Louis, virtually "grew into" the $48,000 a year job by working long hours and learning practically every detail of the exchange's intricate machinery, his associates on the exchange said yesterday.

Martin, who has the sanction of both the exchange membership and the Securities and Exchange commission, has more than intelligence and a capacity for sixteen hour working days, his associates said. "He combines brains plus with personality plus," an exchange member said, in explaining how Martin, at 31, was elected over some 200 of the nation's prominent men sifted from the top ranks of business, law, banking, and colleges.

Martin, who had the backing of the progressive element of the exchange which favors "playing ball" with the SEC, will resign from the St. Louis brokerage firm of A. G. Edwards & Sons and dispose of his exchange membership. This is required under the new constitution, which provides for a nonmember president. He was named chairman of the board of governors at the inauguration of the new régime in April and has left this office for the presidency.

Martin is known in New York financial circles as Bill and is as informal as an old hat, an article for which he has a weakness. Broker jokesters on a dull day once amused themselves by building a fire in one of Martin's battered felts—"to get rid of it."

"No woman would live with a man that works the hours he does," his secretary sighs. Martin says nothing.

Martin's tennis game was good enough to take him through a few rounds of the national championships several years ago, but he says he is too busy to keep in top form now. A nondrinker and nonsmoker, Martin explains simply that he "doesn't like" either one. He breakfasts at an automat on the way to work.

39,000,000 LISTED ON ACCOUNTS OF SECURITY BOARD

About one-third of all persons now applying for social security account numbers are young men and women not more than 25 years old, H. L. McCarthy, regional director of the social security board, said yesterday. Since last December, 2,417,983 applications for account numbers have been filed, bringing the total to 39,106,321.

Since many of these young workers probably are taking their first regular jobs, McCarthy said, the increase in applications from young persons indicates that the initial registration under the old age insurance program has been almost completed. As was expected, he said, the number of applications is leveling off.

An Experiment That Got Results

A SMALL but progressive national bank decided to experiment with an advertising program in the Business Pages of The Times. Inquiries and comments were received not only from the metropolitan area, but from as far distant as Houston. Officers of the bank said they were fully convinced of The Times ability to establish contact between the bank and the public.

The Financial and Business News Pages of The Times have the largest financial and business audience of any newspaper in America.

PRICES OF U. S. STOCKS RISE ON LONDON MART

London, July 4.—(AP)—Securities markets here and on the continent generally exhibited a buoyant tone today as many traders expressed belief American markets would resume their advance tomorrow following the Independence day holiday.

There was an all-around upward swing of prices on the London stock exchange, in which American issues, after giving way on selling, came back to close higher.

Coppers, Oils Strong.

Professional traders and continental buyers were responsible for generally higher prices in the American group. Coppers, oils, and gold mine shares did best.

United States Steel finished at 61¼, compared with against Friday's 58, International Nickel, 51¼, compared with 49¾; Chrysler, 67, against 60¼, and Anaconda, 35, against 31⅞.

The closing tone was generally firm. There was a slight shading from the best in speculative issues.

Active Buying in Amsterdam.

Selling played a larger part on the Paris bourse, where the finish was irregular and trading was quiet.
